Dear [REDACTED]

Your letter of January 24, 1961, has been received, and I want you to know that it was a pleasure to furnish you with a copy of "Masters of Deceit."

I am most appreciative of your generous comments concerning my administration of this Bureau. I do feel, however, that any success I have achieved is due in large measure to the men and women of the FBI who have given so much of their time and effort to the advancement and progress of good law enforcement.

I am forwarding, under separate cover, some literature which may be of interest to you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Please forgive the informality of this letter, but I have only a few days before leaving Washington, and I felt obliged to write you in regard to the personally autographed copy of your book "Masters of Deceit" which was forwarded to me at the request of Mr. Hinchman.

The receipt of this book has stimulated me to acknowledge my profound personal appreciation for the services you have performed in my behalf, as a citizen of the United States of America, over a period of many years.

Most Americans are aware of the contributions you have made, but I am sure that relatively few have had the opportunity to express this to you.

I believe the future of America lies in our ability to determine what motivates men to be "Great Americans" and instill this knowledge into future generations.

I believe that in my life-time you are one of the dominant examples of this type of American. I hope I may, in a small way, justify your efforts by upholding and expanding the principles you so signally exemplify.

I regret that I have not had the opportunity to offer my thanks in person, but I hope you will accept my kindest personal regards and sincere appreciation.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir,

It has been my pleasure to read some of your notable books on Communism. Among those read was Masters of Deceit, which was not only interesting but informative. I greatly appreciate the contributions you have made against Communism. Sir, I have completed several hours in the study of Communism and its subversive elements. The present course I am studying is an International Relations Course. In this I would like to write of the Provocative acts of Russia against the Free World.

There are three lines of thought that I would like to pursue in writing this theme, these are: The Provocative Acts of Russia against the U.S. and Free World; the Provocative Acts of the U.S. and Free World against Russia (like the U-2 Incident - in order to give the devil his due) and Provocative Acts of the Free World that Russia says are provocative (we realize that courting n/w is provoking to Russia). Though I am cleared for "top secret" materials, I do not even want confidential materials for other individuals will be reading my finished paper. I do want facts and general data that can be released.

In some way, I hope that the Free World can be shown the real subversive elements of Communism and its tactics (so many have an idea of Communism as others have of Satan - Red, two-horned, and forked-tailed). Thank you for any information you can give, and time involved in fighting our common enemy. May the Lord add His blessings to you in your time.

Sincerely,

The Honorable J. Edgar Hoover, Director
The Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

The faculty and students of this institution are interested in organizing a weekly study group to become better informed on the nature and operations of the Communist Party. Your challenging and informative book, Masters of Deceit, is being sold in our college bookstore, and a number of us have read it with interest. We desire additional literature that you might be able to make available to us that would be suitable for library reference material, and that we could use in such a group as we plan.

May I say that I personally have been thrilled by your many public warnings of the seriousness of the Communist threat, and especially by your emphasis on a sound, sincere Christian faith as its best deterrent. We here at Westminster College and Bible Institute are attempting to help Christian young people achieve the kind of Christ-centered education that will enable them to serve God and their country to their utmost capacity.

We shall greatly appreciate any help you may be able to give us.

Yours very sincerely,

This Article Should Be Widely Read

At a time when a secular sociologist such as Pitirim Sorokin of Harvard warns that unless America conquers her sex obsession, she will go the way of ancient Greece and Rome,

Christian people—especially those who lead youth—need to be forthright in dealing with the sex problem.

Here is more than a warning—here is an exposition of that positive, personal relationship with a living Savior which transfigures all other early relationship, including sex! Here, also, is a tribute to those Christian schools which so teach

Christ and which dare to proclaim moral absolutes in an age of moral relativism.—

education. They have had presented to them the principles for the conduct of a successful Christian life.

Other Christian teen-agers this fall will go into Christian colleges and Bible institutes. Many of these institutions will provide the moral help these youngsters did not get in high school. But the roots of our moral turpitude have already struck deep. The seriousness of the picture today demands action at the very level of evangelical Christianity.

An article in a national women's magazine recounted the story of a young bride-to-be who went to her high school physician for a premarital examination. He expressed surprise that she was still a virgin and told her that 60 per cent of the girls in the school were not.

Flabbergasted, the young woman went to her pastor. He indignantly labeled the doctor's remark as "vicious and scandalous"—for many of the girls were in his church! The doctor persuaded him to get the facts. Within 30 days these were evident: one of the high school girls committed suicide because she was pregnant, two girls had abortions, one had an illegitimate child.

Few evangelicals would want to admit to rampant promiscuity among the youngsters of their church. Yet the church is rare that has not had babies who arrived to newly weds "a few months early."

Christian Schools the Answer?

Christian parents can be grateful that many Christian educators have been aware of this problem and have done something about it. Christian schools have been a great influence in lifting moral standards.

In a western U.S. town the beauty queen of the local high school and only daughter of a prominent family was converted. She went to a Christian college where she was used richly to lead others to the Lord. She said later of her high school days: "My morals were about as high as those of a pig."

Yet even Christian schools are not immune from the moral degeneration of this age.

The president of a large seminary admitted recently that homosexuality is a growing problem among students.

The student magazine of a Christian college carried a cartoon showing a couple necking passionately in a parked car. A couple dressed for dancing was passing by. Remarked the passing boy to his girlfriend: "They don't dance. They go to a Christian college."

Isolated instances? Happily, the majority of students at Christian schools are leading moral, upright lives. But a frank talk with a truthful young person will reveal the great need for attention to the subject in Christian young people's circles.

This is the fact that must be faced squarely: Christian young people are in moral danger, and Christian education is the last stand against moral degeneracy.

It is futile to fry to place blame. The home, the church, the school, the community all share responsibility. Secular society has lost its Christian character and Christian institutions must compensate for this deficiency.

Outline Motives.

A look at the underlying motives—often hidden—behind adolescent sex escapades may provide a clue to the solution.

According to studies of a Department of Health clinic in San Francisco, the basic causes are these:

1. The need for acceptance. Feeling insufficiently loved and admired, the youngster seeks ego reinforcement in sexual acceptance.

2. Rebellion. Sex activity is a way of "getting even" with parents and others in authority.

3. Lack of confidence. In a boy may be a desire to prove his maleness. A girl may wonder if she is capable of a normal physical response.

4. The drive to conformity. Adolescents are under terrific social pressure. They must dress the same, use the accepted slang, idolize the accepted singing "idols." Going steady is the thing to do. Necking, petting, "going all the way"—if everybody's doing it, can it be wrong?

If these four motives are valid, then Christian education surely has the answer. For these basic needs can be met in Christ Who died for the unloved and the rebellious, Who imparts confidence in His shed blood, Who gives power to "be not conformed to this world."

Facts Not Enough.

How can Christians impart this?

First, the facts of sex life and its gradual unfolding must be taught in a definite Christian way and in the light of Bible truth. Courses in "Preparation for Marriage" and lectures on hygiene are already taught in many Christian educational institutions. But they are not the complete answer.

Information is not enough. Knowledge alone does not bring wisdom. It must be blended with a sense of values.

Young people must learn that sex is a "natural urge." It is God given, not only for propagation of the race, but for man's pleasure and satisfaction. It is reserved for the union of marriage and must be controlled.

The point is, parents and teachers must imbue young people with the truth that the best things in life are worth waiting for, are more deeply rewarding for the very sacrifice of having waited. That God provided for the development of the sex urge from infancy through maturity. The destination of the development is married love and the creation of new life and the onward flow of love through generations.

It is one thing to say what must be taught, but another to teach it. Substitute for "teach" the word "imbue." Something may be imbued—that is "saturated"—only by intimate contact with the imbuing agent.

That leads to the key phrase—"personal relationship." The instructor, the parent, the spiritual counselor can only meet the child's real needs on a personal basis.

The Christian biology teacher cannot teach from an ivory tower. Through his personal concern and relationship with students he can clothe the facts of sex with reality. The Christian counselor of a church group can only know his charges' problems as he participates with them in their concerns. And the Christian parent can only impart Christian moral principles as he deals personally and lovingly with his children.

In another sense there must be "personal relationship." The personal relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ and God's Holy Spirit. When the parent, the teacher, the advisor reflect the pure, joyous, liberal love of Christ, the young person will be won to confidence in him, and conversations on intimate problems will be natural and un-self-conscious.

The demonstration of the person of Christ by the counselor

Americans are in throes of a far-reaching sex obsession unparalleled in the nation's history. Public schools shrug off moral responsibility. So Christians must rally to support Christian schools.

must lead to a recognition of this fact: only as the Christian boy or girl identifies himself with Christ—in His life, death and resurrection—can he possess the power of the Holy Spirit to live a victorious Christian life.

Abiding in Christ means "in union with Christ." The complete surrender of self to the Holy Spirit gives power to conquer temptation and sin and to successfully withstand the onslaughts of Satan and the world. The young person must see this in his parents and teachers.

Likewise, the young person who experiences for himself an abiding relationship with the Holy Spirit will let Him shine through every phase of his life. A well-established principle in successful Christian youth organizations is that the young people who are eager to share their knowledge and experience of the living Christ Possess the strongest moral consciousness.

Clearly the responsibility of Christians to help meet the moral crisis of our day is great. It can and must be met at the home and church level. But dominating, as it does, the major portion of the time and energy of the young person, the school is in a key position. And since the public school shrugs off personal faith in Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit as a solution to the problems, Christians must rally to the support of Christian schools.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION RESPONDS TO THE CRISIS IN MORALITY

For your information Westminster College and Bible Institute has reprinted this extremely important article from Christian Life Magazine

CRISIS IN MORALITY

This month thousands of boys and girls will be graduated from high schools across the nation. Too few of these will be benefited from the advantages of a Christian secondary school education.

As they leave behind them their childhood days in public school, an ugly and frightening area of doubt remains. Will this educational experience have clothed them with moral armor tough enough to withstand the assaults of today's sex-hysterical society? More to the point, has that armor already been pierced?

Shocking questions?

At no time has it been more urgent to state the problem frankly. America's public schools are under fire for laxness in equipping the nation's young people intellectually and academically. But more than that, they are under indictment for failing to provide the moral fiber which made this country great. This generation may be the turning point in the history of this nation. Will we continue our world leadership? Or will we degenerate and disappear as a civilization as did the Roman Empire?

Few Christians realize the depths to which students in public schools have sunk.

Americans are now in the throes of a sex obsession unparalleled in the nation's history.

Illegitimate birth have reached an all-time high. The U.S. Public Health Service reports an increase of 36 per cent in six years. And the mothers of 40 per cent of illegitimate babies are teen-agers.

Concepts Shifting.

Researchers report that pre-marital sex experience is the norm, not the exception. The notion of confining sex to marriage is old hat. Studies indicate that close to 70 per cent of our brides are not virgins, that pre-marital experience is twice as prevalent as it was a generation ago.

In a well-to-do Chicago suburb a high school physical education instructor had girls coming to her asking: "Is it wrong to go to bed with a boy?" Their parents swapped husbands regularly and they saw no reason they should not indulge.

On the West Coast it is reported to be common practice for high school boys and girls to rent beach houses—to live, eat and sleep together over wild week ends.

The daring movie poster, the scandal magazine, the suggestive television play, the pornographic comic book pommel young people from all sides.

A noted gynecologist wrote in a recent Ladies Home Journal article reproduced in Readers Digest, "It Could Be Your Daughter": "Youngsters instead of being sheltered and disciplined as they once were, are now exposed to the seamy side of sex in its rawest forms before they have the faintest concept of its total meaning in life. We have only to look about us to realize that, as a nation, we are preoccupied—almost obsessed—with the superficial aspects of sex, with sex as a form of amusement."

Christians Are Involved.

The frightening fact is that Christian boys and girls are a part of this picture. The fact that they come from Christian homes is not sufficient insurance.

The only answer to the problem is a personal and spiritual one. In some cases, teen-agers have come under the influence of many fine Christian youth organizations and their schooltime and summer camp programs.

Some youngsters have had the privilege of a Christian secondary

On the West Coast it is reported to be common practice for high school boys and girls to rent beach houses—to live, eat and sleep together over wild week ends.

The daring movie poster, the scandal magazine, the suggestive television play, the pornographic comic book pommel young people from all sides.

A noted gynecologist wrote in a recent Ladies Home Journal article reproduced in Readers Digest, "It Could Be Your Daughter": "Youngsters instead of being sheltered and disciplined as they once were, are now exposed to the seamy side of sex in its rawest forms before they have the faintest concept of its total meaning in life. We have only to look about us to realize that, as a nation, we are preoccupied—almost obsessed—with the superficial aspects of sex, with sex as a form of amusement."

Christians Are Involved.

The frightening fact is that Christian boys and girls are a part of this picture. The fact that they come from Christian homes is not sufficient insurance.

The only answer to the problem is a personal and spiritual one. In some cases, teen-agers have come under the influence of many fine Christian youth organizations and their schooltime and summer camp programs.

Some youngsters have had the privilege of a Christian secondary

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

Your letter of January 31, 1961, has been received. I appreciate your generous remarks, and your interest in "Masters of Deceit" was most reassuring.

The responsibility of protecting and preserving the freedoms we cherish will soon belong to the members of your generation. For this reason, I was especially interested to hear of your concern about the problem of communism. The most effective way to fight this menace is to learn all you can about it. Organizations such as yours can be guiding forces in helping students to understand the nature of communism. This knowledge is most essential, for it helps us recognize and detect the communists as they attempt to infiltrate the various segments of our society.

A wide variety of information about communism should be available in your local public library, and I am enclosing material which sets forth some points on how the individual citizen can help fight this menace. Additional copies of these items are available, without charge, upon request.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover

For the last two years I have been greatly interested in your work in fighting communism. Since I became aware of the great danger of communism in our country, I have read your book Masters of Deceit and many articles about you and your work.

I am a junior in high school and am a candidate for vice-president of the Virginia State Student Co-operative Association. The S. C. A. is the most powerful scholastic organization in our state. I feel that an organization such as this should be actively fighting the communist menace in our country. If I am elected I want our state organization to take active steps to help our members learn about communism and how to combat it, but I am uncertain as to the best approach.

Since I consider you the leading authority on this subject, I shall appreciate any suggestions you can give on what steps our organization should take.

Yours truly

It was indeed thoughtful of you and [REDACTED] to write on January 26 to express your confidence in the activities of the FBI. I particularly appreciate your kind comments concerning "Masters of Deceit," and I am, of course, pleased that you have recommended it to other persons. The book was written in the hope it would be useful to students and other Americans interested in learning more about the real nature of communism. Letters like yours are most encouraging.

In view of your interest I am sending, under separate cover, some material regarding the threat of communism which you may find of value.

We have studied with great interest your expose' of Communism. We are recommending and giving "Masters of Deceit" to everyone we know.

We never cease to be amazed at the apathy exhibited by the American people. They are like lambs being led to the slaughter. The price of freedom is eternal vigilance. We think that you have put forth tremendous effort in attempting to maintain the freedoms for which the founding fathers paid so dearly. We who now benefit from their efforts should be willing to stir ourselves from our comfortable lives, wake up, and join you and the other dedicated people who have been fighting our battle for us.

Dear [Redacted]

I have received your letter of February 2, 1961, and I am pleased to learn that you are using my book, "Masters of Deceit," in connection with your sermons. Please accept my thanks for your generous expressions of confidence in the FBI.

I can readily understand your deep concern over the grave threat posed by communism, particularly to the youth of our country. Your efforts to alert the people of your area to the dangers of this cancerous growth are most encouraging. I have always felt that private citizens, acting through their civic, labor, religious, educational and similar organizations, constitute one of our most effective weapons for combating communism.

In response to your request, I am glad to forward, under separate cover, a copy of my address before the National Convention of The American Legion in Miami Beach, Florida, on October 18, 1960, in addition to several other items setting forth my views on communism. Thank you for your blessing.

I appreciated very much receiving the autographed copy of your book, "Masters of Deceit." Our entire family looks forward to reading it, and particularly my son who, one day, may turn up as one of your organization. He is keenly interested in the FBI and has discussed such a career with Henry Sloan, John Mohr, C. Q. Smith and others of your staff who we have been privileged to have down here.

While we have not met, I hope we may look forward to having that pleasure sometime in the course of our annual "defense of Remington Farms against invasion by waterfowl." Re Bureau letter to Dr. [REDACTED] dated 12/15/60.

On 2/2/61, while in Fort Worth, Texas, on other matters, I took the opportunity to stop by and talk with Dr. [REDACTED] regarding his letter to the Director, 12/15/60, wherein he indicated his desire to place the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit" in the Fort Worth public schools.

He wanted me to convey his thanks and appreciation to the Director for sending him a copy of "Masters of Deceit", and he seemed very sincere in his desire to bring to the public the dangers of Communism. He is particularly interested in educating young people, particularly high school students, so that they will know early in their lives the dangers of Communism.

He has studied "Masters of Deceit" very carefully and has underlined and tabbed many passages in the book. He requested advice as to any other books, pamphlets, or publications which he could study prior to contacting the Fort Worth school system. He stated that when he has his facts well in hand, he plans to make a formal presentation to the Superintendent of Fort Worth schools requesting that the book, "Masters of Deceit", be a required text for study in connection with Civics or American History.

I advised him I would have the Bureau send to him direct a copy of whatever material the Bureau had on hand at the present time, such as the Director's speeches, on the topic "Communism", reprints of magazine articles, pamphlets, publications and a list of subversive organizations cited by the Attorney General.

The following is submitted as another example of the beneficial effects of the Director's book "Masters of Deceit."

Recently [redacted] a young student at the University of Nuevo Leon was offered a five-year scholarship in Czechoslovakia by the Czechoslovakian Vice Consul in Monterrey. The scholarship would have permitted [redacted] to major in mechanical engineering and he was anxious to accept it. His sister, with whom he resides, learned of the scholarship and objected strenuously. Two officials of the Czechoslovakian Consulate tried to convince her that her brother would benefit greatly from an education in Czechoslovakia, since he would return an extremely well educated person and a man of stature and importance in the community. The sister, however, told them that she did not want her brother to study in Czechoslovakia since he would be thoroughly indoctrinated in communism and Marxism. The Czechoslovakians then told her that within 25 years all the world would be communist and that the U.S. where she wanted her brother to study was a capitalist state that does not want to see the Latin American Republics progress.

The sister asked for help from [redacted] whom she has known for many years. [redacted] talked to [redacted] pointing out the faults of communism and the real purpose of the Czechoslovakian scholarships. The boy was not completely convinced and [redacted] then gave [redacted] sister a copy of the Spanish language version of "Masters of Deceit" for her to read and leave lying around so that her brother would pick it up and read it.

A week later, [redacted] visited [redacted] and said he had read "Masters of Deceit," which [redacted] had loaned his sister. [redacted] stated the book was an outstanding thesis on communism and its tactics. He advised his eyes were opened by the book and he was not as anxious to go to Czechoslovakia as he had been. After further discussion, [redacted] indicated he would not accept the scholarship. He told the informant that he would like to learn English so that when he finishes his current studies he could apply for a scholarship in the U.S.

Through Consular contacts SA J. J. Creeden, Jr., arranged for the U.S. Information Service at the American Consulate to offer a free scholarship to [redacted] to study English at the Binational Center in Monterrey (a cultural relations center operated with backing of U.S. Government). [redacted] was overjoyed at this offer.

My dear Mr. Hoover:

Herewith are first proofs of material relating to the "Free World Youth Horizons" that we started publishing last year.

In this we are putting excerpts and condensed reviews of most important books, magazine articles, addresses and lectures - along with best editorial art from newspapers and magazines throughout America and the Free World - relating to Americanism, Communism and communists.

Will you kindly advise to what extent we may quote from Masters of Deceit and other published articles and speeches.

So far as funds permit, we plan to put copies in school libraries, youth organizations and church schools here and abroad.

This will be a condensed readers digest type of student periodical in simple, understandable phraseology. Contributions by students and contests will be included.

Trusting we may hear from you at your early convenience, we remain,

FBI Warns of Red Youth Drive in U.S.

Says Party Would Run New Group

WASHINGTON —

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Thursday that American Communists plan to establish a new youth organization under the secret control of party members.

Hoover called it part of the Communist Party's new emphasis on youth activities.

"At this very moment," Hoover said, "the Communist Party is in the final stages of reorganization. It will go to the final conference in New York City in the next few days. It will be said in the next few days that the Communist Party is now a national organization. It will have one national headquarters and will direct all its activities through this headquarters."

The new organization will be a national youth organization. It will be directed by the Communist Party. It will be a national youth organization. It will be directed by the Communist Party. It will be a national youth organization. It will be directed by the Communist Party.

Warns

Hoover said the Communists "hope to repeat the success which they achieved in the past."

HE NOTED that last summer two secretaries in the Soviet Embassy here were declared persona non grata and that two persons were arrested in October and another in November on spy charges.

The FBI chief said another facet of the party's emphasis on youth is a special publication, "New Horizons for Youth," under editorial direction of its national youth director, identified by the FBI as Daniel Rubin of New York.

Hoover, who will remain in his job under the incoming Kennedy administration, said the American Communist Party "remains the largest subversive organization in the United States."

He said that "under the leadership of Moscow-trained leaders," it "ties with the Communist Party in Cuba throughout the year."

Reds
Investigation
1960 disclosed that the number of satellite organizations in the United States has increased.

During this period of grave international tension, America cannot afford to relax her internal defenses even momentarily," Hoover said, adding:

"FBI investigations during 1960 disclosed that an alarming number of Soviet and satellite diplomatic personnel have intelligence assignments in this country."

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As you will recall, last fall the Midland for America group presented the senior students at the Midland High School a paperback copy of your fine book "Masters of Deceit" and in order to stimulate the reading of the book conducted an essay contest for the best essays written on the subject. By your letter of October 26, 1960, you expressed an interest in reading the winning essays, and accordingly, we are forwarding them herewith. I have indicated on the front piece of each essay the order in which it was judged. When you have finished with them, I would appreciate your returning them to me.

The prizes in the essay contest were awarded on January 26, 1961 in the total amount of $250.00 as had been previously announced. We of Midland for America and the faculty and students of Midland High School were very appreciative of the appearance in this presentation of awards of Mr. Jack Spencer, the assistant special agent in charge of El Paso district. Mr. Spencer acted in your behalf in presenting the autographed copies of your book which you had so graciously donated as additional prizes in this contest. I am sure that the copies of your book will be highly valued by the recipients long after the money prizes have been forgotten.

The number of entries in the contest were disappointingly few; however, we feel that the overall undertaking was remarkably successful in that the Principal of the school and students whom we have talked with all indicate that great interest in the book was shown by the class as a whole and feel that most of the students have read the book. The reading of the book, after all, was the entire purpose of this undertaking. Additionally, it has been the subject of discussion in quite a few of the formal class periods in the high school curriculum.

Again I would like to express our appreciation for your interest in our effort to inform the students of the menace with which we are faced.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Tavel

You will recall that last fall the above-captioned individual was in contact with the Bureau to advise that the Midland for America group distributed pocket book editions of "Masters of Deceit" to 527 senior students at Midland High School on 10-14-60. The group also sponsored an essay contest based on the book with cash prizes for the first five winners. [REDACTED] forwarded five copies of the pocket book editions with the request that they be autographed by the Director for presentation to the winners. He also invited the Director to personally award the prizes. The Director autographed five copies of the hard back edition of "Masters of Deceit" for the Midland for America group but indicated he could not personally present them.

By letter dated February 6, 1961, [REDACTED] enclosed copies of the prize-winning essays submitted in the "Masters of Deceit" contest at Midland High School. He indicated that he would like the essays returned to him. He indicated that the number of entries was disappointingly few, but felt that the students had, in fact, read the book nevertheless. He expressed appreciation for Mr. Jack C. Spencer, Assistant Special Agent in Charge of the El Paso Office, being present to help in the presentation. Prizes in the contest totalled $250. The autographed copies of "Masters of Deceit" were also awarded.

A review of the essays indicated that the authors have shown considerable interest in reading "Masters of Deceit." Although the essays indicated that certain sections of the book were copied or closely paraphrased, some original thoughts obviously were included. It is felt that essays of this nature are helpful in stimulating students' interest in learning about communism. In general, the five essays summarize data directly from "Masters of Deceit." In each instance, the basic theme is the danger of communism, the students pointing out that they are now aware of the evil nature of communism. It is noted that the essays contain a large number of misspelled words and exhibit not too careful preparation.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

During this Christmas season, your two agents in Worcester, [redacted] and [redacted] presented me with a copy of your book "Masters of Deceit", personally autographed by you.

I have read the book and found it to be extremely interesting and enlightening. It was of particular interest to me because during a trip to Lima, Peru for the government, I saw evidence of the insidious work of the communists. The communist threat is real and ignoring it will not cause it to disappear. As you so properly suggest, we (all Americans) must face up to it and roll it back wherever and whenever we find it is in conflict with our national interests.

Thank you for autographing this book which shall be one of my treasured possessions.

Best wishes for continued success in your very important work.

Sincerely,

The following information has come to my attention which I believe is of interest and shows the effect that the Director's book, Masters of Deceit, is having since it has been translated into the Spanish language.

[redacted] a student at the Alvaro Obregon School, a branch of the University of Nuevo Leon in Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, was offered, just prior to the Christmas, 1960, Holidays, a five-year scholarship to the University of Prague at Prague, Czechoslovakia, by Dr. VACLAV KUBATA, the Czechoslovakian Vice-Consul in Monterrey. This scholarship was for a five-year period, the first year of which [redacted] was to study the Czechoslovakian language and the last year to major in Mechanical Engineering.

[redacted] appeared sincerely anxious to accept this scholarship but since he was a minor, the Czechoslovakian Vice-Consul requested that he obtain from his mother a letter authorizing the trip. [redacted] traveled to [redacted], where his mother is residing and convinced her that this was a wonderful opportunity and that he should be permitted to accept it.

Upon returning to Monterrey, his sister [redacted] with whom he resides in Monterrey, learned of the scholarship and objected strenuously.

Several days later two individuals, described by [redacted] as Europeans, visited her at her home in Monterrey. They identified themselves as officials of the Czechoslovakian Consulate, and from the description of the person who has done the talking, he appears to be identical with Dr. [redacted]. This person stated that he had heard that she objected strenuously to her brother's accepting a scholarship to the University of Prague. He stated that this was an opportunity that should be accepted and that her brother would return from these studies there an extremely

Dear Author:

When the first publication notices of your writing were released, we started a file in your name. As reviews appeared, they were clipped and added to your "reviews on file." We have a collection we feel sure you'd like to see.

Our service was started in 1928, devoted exclusively to authors. For more than 30 years, we have saved reviews from the leading newspapers, magazines, library and book trade bulletins, trade and technical journals, literary and college quarterlies. Our unique "morgue" contains millions of reviews, and is undoubtedly the only place such a record exists.

If you missed the publicity on your writings as it appeared, chances are we have most, if not all of it, in our collection. Due to limited space, this collection cannot be held indefinitely, and this offer may not be made again.

The enclosed order form tells you how many clippings we have (itemized by title, if you have had more than one book published) and the cost of the collection. A reply envelope is enclosed for your convenience in ordering.

Sincerely,

Gentlemen:

Approximately 12 January 1961 my check for $27.50 was sent to you with an order for 50 copies of J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit". Yesterday a carton of 50 copies of "Understanding Surgery" arrived.

The incorrect shipment is being returned to you by United Parcel Service - "Collect" for the freight charges. A copy of this letter will act as a packing slip. I will expect the correct shipment to be sent immediately.

It is understandable that mistakes can happen; however, considering the difficulty of obtaining this book on newsstands - even by advance order - may I suggest you re-evaluate the procedures within your Shipping Department. There is a concerted effort, obviously on the part of Communists and their dupes or sympathizers, to curtail the distribution of this book. Mistakes in shipments could be an effective sabotage.

Will you advise me of your findings and inform me of an expected date of shipment.

Sincerely,

cc: J. Edgar Hoover

It is noted that Mr. [redacted] letter was acknowledged by the SAC Houston; however, the latter recommended that we write to Mr. [redacted] expressing appreciation for his interest in "Masters of Deceit." The SAC also enclosed a copy of a form letter which [redacted] had distributed with copies of "Masters of Deceit," urging the recipient to pass the book on to someone else. The following enclosures were also received, which were originally provided the SAC Houston by [redacted] who advised he had received them from an acquaintance, [redacted]. These included a copy of an article by J. B. McGeachy which had appeared in the 1960 (no further date indicated) issue of "The Financial Post," Toronto, Canada, and in it McGeachy advocated a coexistence relationship between East and West. He also enclosed a copy of a letter to "Fortune" magazine, New York, New York, which had been written on 2-11-57 by Mr. [redacted] in which Mr. [redacted] noted the industrial gains in Russia during the last few years and admonished that this is a situation which the United States cannot afford to ignore. Greetings and best wishes for 1961.

We want to start the New Year off right by sharing with our friends some vital information.

This information is given in a book written with authority and great intensity by J. Edgar Hoover, the head of the F. B. I. The book is called "Masters of Deceit".

There is a grim fascination about it, and it is hard to put it down once you start.

We are sending it to you because you are one of the people it was written for. When you finish it, won't you select another thinking American, and ask them to read it and pass it on? After reading it, we think you and your friends will agree that if everyone knew the information in this book, communism would be stopped in its tracks.

We hope you will also agree that spreading copies of this book is one effective and practical way to protect our families and friends from an active enemy.

Won't you join us in spreading this information by giving other copies of this book and starting other chains?

Best regards,

Gentlemen:

This is just a note to tell you that I believe you are crying "wolf", or indulging in wishful thinking, in most of your Report on the Soviet Empire appearing in the February, 1957 issue.

Just as, we are told, the Russians were led to believe that the United States has been on the verge of a post-war depression that would "make your hair curl", so I believe the Editors of Fortune are crying "wolf" or engaging in wishful thinking when you carry articles about a "crisis" of Soviet capitalism, or consider that the "condition of communism" is such that it carries within itself the seeds to bring about a collapse within a relatively short time. Actually, it seems hardly likely that a "crisis" of any kind is impending or that "conditions" are such that any startling economic developments - other than steady progress - are likely over an extended period of time.

Actually, you are doing a disservice in trying to write off the almost unbelievable strides that the Soviet Union has made in the past several years. It would be preferable to point out that the large gains that do exist, recognize their validity, and call for a level of increased watchfulness and interest on our part in what the Soviet Union is doing.

At the end of August I returned from a 17 day trip as a tourist through the Soviet Union and I observed a number of different items, not only with respect to the material progress of the country, but also with respect to the people involved. It has, however, been difficult to express to many people that the Soviet Union cannot be written off as a country of poor workers, or laboring peasants with a lack of technology, inadequate housing, and repressed ways of life, operating as a police state. Actually, the conditions are far different.

A friend of mine remarked that thirty years ago, after visiting the Soviet Union, he said "a civilization like this cannot endure for long". Last year, after returning from another trip he said: "I am impressed with what they are doing and their prospects for the future". He added - "I only hope I am as cockeyed about my predictions this time as I was before!" I am afraid that he is not and that the Soviet Union will continue to make as great strides in its technology as it has in the past. At least the course of wisdom today would dictate watchful thinking along these lines.

Whether or not the Soviet Union will ever overtake the United States is something else again, but the recent steps in that direction have been rapid and purposeful.

ENCLOSURE

They cannot be shrugged off. We can no longer afford the luxury of "looking down our nose" economically at the Soviet Union. Instead, it behooves us to give more intelligent appraisal to our neighbor behind the iron curtain.

I know very little about other fields of endeavor than the coal, oil and gas field in which my work is presently engaged - but in that field the Russian strides of advance have been nothing short of amazing, particularly after all I had been led to believe.

First, Russian production of coal exceeds that of the United States. U. S. 1956 production being about 520 million tons (including anthracite) compared to Russian production of about 530 million metric tons (about 10% greater than a U.S. short ton).

Second, in the field of oil production, although starting from a smaller base, the annual increment of oil output in the Soviet Union has averaged 14% over the past ten years. In the United States it has been 4%.

In the oil and gas field in 1955 Russian oil production reached 1,410,000 barrels a day, a daily increase of 19% or 230,000 barrels a day over 1954. This was almost double the 1950 daily average of 754,000 barrels. Except for Venezuela, (2,160,000 barrels per day) Russia produces more oil than any country in the world outside the United States (6,800,000 barrels per day). During the last two years preceding 1955 Russia's absolute growth in the respect was greater than that of the United States (355,000 barrels per day against 275,000 barrels per day). In this respect, at least, the Soviet Union is making tremendous strides forward. In the next five years a 95% increase is planned. I see no cause for complacency in these figures.

In discovering new oil reserves, the Soviet Union's gains have also been impressive. Explored oil reserves in that country have increased $2\frac{1}{2}$ times since 1950, and now are about 10 billion barrels against 30 billion for the United States (a total which has not substantially changed in recent years). Part of this has come about by large new recent discoveries in the Ural-Volga area (the Soviet Union's "second Baku"). Part of it has, however, come about by substantially increased drilling. In fact, by the use of Russia's newly developed turbo-drill, new drilling records have been established, and yet costs are being reduced. The drilling rate has more than doubled for the industry as a whole since 1950 with an increasing proportion being carried out by rotary turbine drilling. In 1951-1955 55% of all the Soviet Union's drilling was accomplished by rotary turbine drilling, the recent proportion reaching 97% in the Ural-Volga "second Baku" region.

When you consider the fact that there are only a handful of rotary turbine rigs operating in the United States on a strictly experimental basis, the extent of Russia's advances are indicated. Any trend toward a reduction in per foot drilling rates is in sharp contrast to United States experience.

In addition, Russia's newest natural gas industry plans a large expansion in production and through-put rising from 350 billion cubic feet in 1955 to 1.4 trillion cubic feet in 1960. The present and planned 28" large diameter long distance high pressure (700 lbs. per sq. inch) gas transmission lines will more than double in that period, and outside of the United States and Canada, the Soviet Union will have the largest natural gas transmission line grid of any country in the world.

In order to accomplish this the Soviet Union is graduating twice as many engineers per year as are being graduated in the United States - 53,000 against 25,000. The efficacy of these engineers is testified to by Fortune's article: "How Good is Soviet Science" - which gives a hard hitting appraisal of the facts. Moscow's Institute of Oil Technology alone has over 1600 students, and more at the branches in Saratov, Grozny, and Triflis. I am assured that this is equal to greater than the total number of students taking similar courses in the United States.

The reason the people of the Soviet Union are willing to carry on such work, building up Soviet industry instead of spending their wealth on present day consumer goods is that they feel their sacrifices are being made in order to give their own sons and daughters a better place to live in. Such a point of view, several times expressed to me in the course of my trip, explains a lot, and is a nearly unbeatable point of view. Whatever space restrictions - even in housing - exist are cheerfully borne with this in mind. Perhaps it is a delusion of the people, but it is a popular one - and in contrast perhaps to the current point of view in the United States.

Even at that the Soviet Union produced 4,300,000 radio and television sets in 1955 and throughout Moscow, Leningrad, a number of smaller cities, TV antennas on apartment houses looked like the Bronx in New York. Farmhouses near these cities often had two antennas apiece - more than one family living in the house. Of course, this does not compare with United States production of about 22 million sets in the same period, but I am afraid that most of us believe that the average Russian has never seen a television set.

I have several times used the analogy that, if our material progress were to be measured at 100%, the Soviet Union's progress might relatively stand at 40%. However, during the years since the end of World War II, this has represented an increase of perhaps 50% or more, up from perhaps a relative level of around 25% at the end of the War. Rather than looking to the United States to see the vast amount of material progress left to be done, the people of the Soviet Union, instead, look back to the end of World War II and see only that they are substantially better off than they ever were before. People with this point of view in mind, are not in what might be termed an unsettled condition.

Perhaps today the Soviet Union is ten or twenty years behind us economically, and is now near where the United States was during depression years in the 30's. This, however, is not as wide a gap as some - perhaps the editors of Fortune - would have us believe.

Too many of us, I believe, are prone to believe that merely because something is done one way in the Soviet Union automatically proves that the Soviet Union is going about it in the wrong way. Part of this, I am afraid, falls into the category of wishful thinking.

In my short trip in which we were able to talk to all sorts and conditions of people - in my broken Berlitz Russian - I found the people ready, eager and willing to talk without any apparent reticence or thought of surveillance. The Voice of America could readily be picked up on our hotel radio and as for tourists, there was no customs inspection of any kind. (What a contrast with New York's International Idlewild Airport!) There were television sets everywhere, and the autos, rail, bus and steamship services were efficient and adequate. As a long time resident of New York I can only say that the Moscow and Leningrad subways are examples of cleanliness and efficiency.

When you think that the U.S.S.R. at present has over two hundred million people, that they have developed and have in regular service a 56 passenger, 500 m.p.h. jet airliner, flying from Moscow to Vladivostok, have made vast strides in the nuclear energy field, it behooves the citizens of this country to learn to know about the Soviet Union as probably the world's second ranking power.

Certainly a more realistic appraisal of the facts and circumstances of the current economic situation in the Soviet Union than that presented by the editors of Fortune indicates no likelihood of any "crisis", but rather of steady progress in great strides towards the goals which the United States has reached. Such a situation requires increased watchfulness and vigilance on the part of Americans today, and cannot be passed off with a smile as the editors of Fortune might have us believe.

Yours very truly,

By J. B. McGEACHY

ONE HUNDRED YEARS from now, said the historian Arnold Toynbee on a TV program recently, our ideological quarrel with the Russians will seem as ridiculous to our descendants, if any, as the religious wars of the 17th century now seem to us.

This is a prediction that makes sense to me; and I imagine it makes sense to millions of other people who believe that co-existence with the Russians is necessary and possible. But it will hardly be possible if current fanaticism, on both sides, continues to be kept white-hot. War is pretty certain unless mutual tolerance — if not respect or affection — can somehow be arranged.

To see the point of Toynbee's historical analogy it's necessary first to recognize communism as really a kind of religion. It's a secular faith, rejecting the supernatural, but at the human level it has all the characteristics of a crusading church.

It has its dogmatic creed; and this creed is even divided into the old and new revelations, namely the works of Marx and the works of Lenin. It has its hierarchy and its theology, consisting of endless argument about what is orthodox and what is not.

It has its catalogue of sins, among which the worst appears to be heresy or, to use Red terminology, "deviationism". It preaches constantly both to the faithful and to the heathen; the output of its text interpreters, pamphleteers and orators is truly stupendous.

Its ultimate aim is avowed to be, like that of Christianity or Mohammedanism, to convert the world; meanwhile, and perhaps forever, it has its chosen people and its saints. These are the members of the Russian communist party, a tiny minority of the total population of the USSR.

In these various ways Soviet communism is very like a church militant — and intolerant. It will brook no teaching other than its own. The whole truth is in Marx and Lenin, its exponents say, and in works that stem from their creedal writings; everything else in print is a form of error.

On the western side of the fence, unfortunately, an equally fierce fanaticism can be found. The late Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, while Naturally, according to Malik, the triumph of the Good over the Bad is what every right-thinking person must desire and fight for. Malik's position might fairly be described as American orthodoxy.

It's clear then, that the elements of a holy war or jihad do exist in the contemporary situation. Toynbee was not being fanciful when he suggested a comparison with the deplorable state of affairs in Europe more than three centuries ago them — were inferior intellectually or morally to the paragons who now inhabit the earth.

The religious wars coincided in time with the great works of later Renaissance art, the life of Shakespeare, the reign of Elizabeth I and scientific discoveries, by Galileo and Kepler among others, that affect us all to this day.

It was an age very like our own—a period of enlightenment, material progress, advancement in the arts and sciences. They were people very like ourselves, just as clever and just as ferocious, who burned, pillaged and massacred in the name of their theological beliefs.

Indeed a curious similarity in the mental climate of the two periods may be detected. To belong to the wrong side in the period of the religious wars, to be a Catholic in Protestant England or a Protestant in Catholic France, was not merely to be misinformed or mistaken. The error was deemed to have the quality of blasphemy.

Members of the opposition faith were not charitably conceded to be preaching false doctrine from thickness of head or invincible ignorance. No, they were engaged in a diabolical conspiracy. Beelzebub himself was one of them, and their extirpation was God's will.

Isn't the situation alarmingly similar in 1960?

Any westerner who suggests that communism is perhaps not 100% foul and monstrous, that maybe it has its uses at certain times and places, that after all it's merely an economic program that deserves to be judged on its merits, at once becomes a kind of moral leper and may even be liable in some jurisdictions to prosecution and penalties. Likewise any Russian who talks in the same way about capitalism or free enterprise, whatever he chooses to call it, is certain to be in similar, probably worse, trouble.

"Reds and non-Reds are not yet burning one another at the stake; but plainly they're in a mood not unlike the mood of our European ancestors who 300 years ago threw faggots on the flames in an ecstasy of religious fervor."

J. B. McGEACHY

he lived, typified it. He has no exact parallel among living politicians; but Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona ("Conscience of a Conservative") is one among many who rule out co-existence. He preaches quite frankly, intolerance of communism in every form.

A fuller statement of this point of view was in a recent talk at Williamsburg by Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon, Christian philosopher and diplomat.

The East-West conflict, as he sees it, is essentially a struggle not between Right and Left but between Right and Wrong. The principle of basic, unspeakable and everlasting Evil is embodied and imbedded in the communist system, he thinks, while the principle of everlasting and unqualified Good may be found in the system that we on our side of the Iron Curtain practise and greatly prefer.

The wars of religion, which lasted from roughly 1560 to 1650, were partly political and partly economic as all wars are; but they were mainly ideological, stemming from the quarrels set on foot by the Reformation.

One side believed in the confessional, transubstantiation and the supremacy of the pope; the other side rejected these notions as superstitious. And for generation after generation, because of a difference of opinion on these purely theological matters, people were killed by tens of thousands in bloody wars and massacres, their towns were devastated, they were tortured, scourged and burned alive. The Europe of 1648 was a worse shambles than the Europe of 1945.

It would be a great mistake to imagine that the persons who took part in the absurd carnage of those times — absurd to us, though it seemed quite sensible to

Reds and non-Reds are not yet burning one another at the stake; but plainly they're in a mood not unlike the mood of our European ancestors who threw faggots on the flames in an ecstasy of religious fervor. My argument here, a corollary to Toynbee's, is that this mutual intolerance is an obstacle to co-existence and even a threat to peace.

What can be done about it? Is there any possibility that the nations in the two camps will calm down and stop threshing their old ideological straw? Toynbee's remark suggests that they will have desisted within 100 years; but that is a long time to wait. Can anything constructive be done in the meantime?

As we cannot very easily reach the Russians, not by direct line anyway, the most useful beginning might be to reconsider our own thinking. We might start by recognizing that Dr. Malik, when he talks about communism as Wrong with a capital W — Wrong absolutely, eternally and basically — is proving himself an unrealistic and unobjective historian.

Surely he might just as well say that the Roman Empire, feudalism or the medieval papacy was Wrong and, embodied the principle of Evil. Each of these great historical institutions had both faults and detractors; but all of them lasted a long while and apparently suited a lot of people reasonably well at the time.

In our own age communism is a social system, or more correctly a system of producing and distributing goods, that has come into fashion in some countries. It's unacceptable in the "free world", meaning chiefly West Europe and North America, because here it's totally irrelevant — either as a method of organizing output or for ensuring fair shares.

But it seems to suit, well enough, people at a relatively backward industrial and cultural level, like the Chinese today or the Russians of 1917. If it has helped them, why should we complain?

Certainly it's against our interest that the Soviet Union and China should extend their influence and export their system; but this is a problem of power politics, not ideology. In any case, there is now no system that the Russians and Chinese could together certify and endorse as the only true, authentic and infallible Marxist-Leninist article.

The two big Red nations are seriously at odds on doctrinal grounds because their revolutions are at different stages; and this divergence only illustrates the fact that all human institutions, at all times, are in process of change and flux. Soviet communism may look monolithic but in fact it bears little resemblance to the kind of state prescribed by Marx and Lenin.

Rise of the managerial class has transformed it into a mass-producing, technologically advanced community not unlike the U.S. Conversely, the effect of Marxist thought on Western (including American) policy has been profound. The welfare state is the West's reply, or accommodation, to Marx. It has made the ideological debate almost meaningless. The old argument "capitalism versus communism" is really stone dead because neither capitalism nor communism now exists as defined in the original prospectus.

What, then, keeps alive the phobias that divide humanity and remind Toynbee of the religious quarrels of long ago?

The best short answer, I think, is fear. If the Americans hate Russia, it's because they're afraid of Soviet missiles and nuclear weapons. If the Russians hate the U.S., it's for the same reason. Nothing will allay these fears except settlement of political disputes and disarmament, neither of which causes is yet lost.

But fear is not confessed on either side. How do the objectors to co-existence rationalize their irrational hatreds?

The two rationalizations I encounter most often are that Russia is an enemy of religion and that there's no freedom in Russia or any other communist society.

Khrushchov, it's true, is an atheist. Though he invokes the Almighty more often than might be expected of an unbeliever, and though he is in fact the leader of an intensely evangelical secular church, his Marxism obliges him to proclaim that religion is the opium of the people.

But freethinkers and anti-clericals have ruled France, the U.S., and other civilized western lands. And it wasn't Khrushchov who wrote the following paragraph of eloquent if rather high-flown prose:

"The energies of our (solar) system will decay, the glory of the sun will be dimmed, and the earth, tideless and inert, will no longer tolerate the race which has for a moment disturbed its solitude. Man will go down into the pit and all his thought will perish . . . Nor will anything that is better or be worse for all that the labor, genius, devotion and suffering of men have striven through countless generations to effect."

That stern statement of the irreligious position was from the stately pen of Arthur James Balfour, prime minister of England at the end of the reign of good Queen Victoria. Whether or not Mr. K would go quite so far in pessimism, I can't see his formal disclaimer of religion as a casus belli, especially when the people who want to go to church in Russia are apparently able to do so.

When the question of freedom gets into this debate, I always recall the remark of an Italian friend of mine about 30 years ago. I had twitted him on his country's loss of liberty under Mussolini.

"What nonsense!" he exclaimed. "You are free to start a new political party whereas we are not. But who in his right mind wants to start a new political party? Are you free, as we are, to sing and dance in the streets? Are you free to have a drink at an outdoor cafe or whenever you please, including Sundays? No, you are miserable, downtrodden slaves of the WCTU." To this I had no adequate rejoinder.

Freedom is a relative matter and depends on what people are used to, ancestrally and in their own time. I suspect that the average Russian feels about as free as anyone else and doesn't especially miss what we call the liberties, including the opportunity to vote for Mr. X instead of Mr. Y, that we cherish inordinately and indeed probably over-prize. These are unknown luxuries, like meat twice a day, to far more than two thirds of the human race. And the actuality as opposed to the theory is still more remote from the great bulk of mankind.

To sum up, the rivalry of the U.S. and Russia for influence in the world, which is strictly in the sphere of power politics, could certainly lead to war. Presuming that humanity wants peace, there is nothing to be gained by representing the struggle as a struggle between Good and Evil, Right and Wrong. This is untrue anyway; and to argue that it's true is only to exacerbate feelings and increase the chances of war.

It may be hoped that the new president of the U.S., whoever he may be, will talk sense about the Russian question instead of the dreary, messianic stuff we have had to put up with in recent years. For if we insist on being fed myths and legends, the atomic holocaust is almost a certainty.

Dear Sir:

I have recently read your book, "Masters of Deceit."
I found it very interesting and inspiring.

This book contained very complete information concerning the facts and issues of Communism. It has given me a better knowledge of this terrible menace.

I wished that many people would read this book and take an interest in this fight against Communism.

Thank you very much for making "Masters of Deceit," a book of superb quality, available to the public.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Your letter of February 13, 1961, has been received, and I am pleased to know that you found my book, "Masters of Deceit," of value in your efforts to learn more about the nature of the communist conspiracy.

As you, I feel that it is essential for Americans to be well informed about this menace, and armed with this knowledge, we can effectively resist its influence. The FBI has prepared a detailed account of the highly organized tactics employed by the Communist Party in the California demonstrations against the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and I am enclosing a copy in order that you may have the full background in this matter. An analysis of this report will show its purpose was not to derend the activities of the Committee nor does it cast doubt on the motivation or loyalty of American youth. It is intended rather as urgent encouragement to young people to develop a broad understanding of the objectives and operations of the malevolent threat of communism in order that they may successfully resist being duped into unlawful and unthinking action. I am including some additional material available for general distribution by this Bureau which you may like to read.

While I cannot authorize you to act in any official capacity for the FBI, I appreciate your offer to be of service. Should you have any information in the future which you believe falls within our investigative jurisdiction, you can be of help by contacting our Baltimore Office located at 408 U. S. Post Office Building, Baltimore 2, Maryland. The interest and spirit which prompted your letter are reassuring and I want to thank you for writing.

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

Your letter was received on February 17, 1961, and it is a pleasure to know that you found my book, "Masters of Deceit," of interest.

I feel that education is of strategic importance in the struggle raging between communism and the free world. It is from the atmosphere of creative thought, scholarly analysis and constructive dissent that the answer to communism will emerge. It is particularly urgent that students direct their attention to effective solutions to those human problems which divide us and invite communist exploitation. The young men and women of your generation who mature with strong minds, courageous hearts and ready hands will share the opportunity to defeat this conspiracy with the weapon it fears most--truth. I urge you and all students to strive to develop sound judgment through a thorough study of the true nature of communism as opposed to our own form of government by the people.

I am enclosing material on the general subject of communism which you may wish to read.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

TO : Mr. Mohr

DATE: 2/20/61

FROM : J. F. Malone *gm*SUBJECT: "MASTERS OF DECEIT"
DIRECTOR'S AUTOGRAPH

As you are aware, notices appeared in the July and November, 1960, issues of the FBI National Academy Associates Newsletter to the effect that graduates of the Academy could order copies of "Masters of Deceit" at the reduced rate of $2.95 and that the Director would be pleased to autograph these to graduates and their friends. The graduates were instructed to send their orders and checks to J. S. Rogers of this division for handling. There has been a very good response to this offer. There was received on 2/7/61 a request from Mrs. [redacted] of Miles City, Montana, whose husband graduated from the 66th Session (August - November, 1960) for an autographed copy for his birthday on March 1. Another letter of 2/9/61 was received from Deputy Chief [redacted] of Oakland, California, Police Department, 37th Session (January - April, 1948) ordering five books for friends of his. A check for $14.75 was enclosed.

b6
b7C

In view of the tremendous volume of work and the unusually heavy demands upon the Director's time, the Crime Records Division has suggested that Rogers write to Mrs. [redacted] and Deputy Chief [redacted] and explain that because of this it is not possible for the Director to autograph the books at this time to individuals by name. Crime Records further suggests that these people be told that we can hope for an autographed signature but that we did not want to do this without first checking with them.

b6
b7C

Attached are proposed letters over the signature of J. S. Rogers to Mrs. [redacted] and Deputy Chief [redacted]. Their checks are being retained until we hear from them.

RECOMMENDATION: That these letters be approved.

Dear Mrs. [redacted]

I received your letter of February 7, 1961, in which you enclosed a check for $2.95 for an autographed copy of Mr. Hoover's book "Masters of Deceit" for Bob's birthday, which, according to our records will be on March 1. Due to the tremendous volume of work with which the Director has been faced since the first of the year and due to the unusually heavy demands upon his time, he has not found it possible to autograph any copies of his book to individuals. There is a possibility that we can get an autographed copy of the book if you would like to have that for [redacted] birthday; but I didn't want to go ahead and have that sent to you without first clearing it with you. If this would be satisfactory, please let me know.

The unusually heavy work load with which Mr. Hoover has been faced since the first of the year and the extremely heavy demands upon his time have prevented him from continuing the practice of autographing his book for individuals by name. "There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness. If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down

And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be re-proved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." St. John 3:1-21,36. # WHY CHRISTIANS SHOULD LOVE THE JEWS

First

Because God chose Israel as a witness to the unity of God.

"Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour. I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, that I am GOD."

Isaiah 43:10-12

Second

Because God chose Israel to show forth the blessedness of serving God.

Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the LORD my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it. Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for? And what nation is there so great that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day?"

Deuteronomy 4:5-8

Third

Because God chose Israel to receive and preserve the Holy Scriptures.

"What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision? Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God." Romans 3:1,2. "Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises." Romans 9:4.

Fourth

Because God chose Israel for the Messiah to come through.

"Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews." St. John 4:22. "Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises. Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen." Romans 9:4,5.

Fifth

Because God chose Israel because He loved Israel.

"For thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God: the LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth. The Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people: But because the LORD loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the LORD brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt." Deuteronomy 7:6-8.

Remember, Christians, God's promise to Abram still holds good. "And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed." Genesis 12:3. One has only to read history to see how God has made this promise good down through the years. Also remember, Christians, that it was One that was not ashamed to be called a Jew that said "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." St. John 3:16.

dom of any kind in a Communist controlled country.

God says, "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good." Psalm 14:1.

The time is coming when God will wipe the Communist Menace off the face of the earth according to Ezekiel Chapters 38 and 39. Until that time, every freedom loving person had better put his or her faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and be ready for action against the Communist Beast at all times. There can be no co-existence with these avowed enemies of God. You just cannot co-exist with a rattlesnake. If you don't strike him first, he is sure to strike you at the first opportunity.

The best remedy for the United States of America to use against these front line enemies of our beloved land would be to break off relations with all Communist Countries, and ship their nests of spies back to their own countries. As long as America harbors them within her borders, they will steal, and use the secrets we have discovered, to try and destroy our Country.

Since August, 1954 the Communists have taken over 44 square miles of territory and 7,000 newly enslaved subjects every hour. This is the Communists' hey-day, but their Waterloo is ahead. Until that time, may we say with Patrick Henry "Give me liberty or give me death." Death is preferable to Communist Slavery.

If you are a Communist, or any other unsaved person the following message from the Holy Bible — God's only Book — is for you: "Prepare to meet thy God. Amos 4:12. Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. Proverbs 27:1. For there is no difference. For all have sinned. Romans 3:22-23. The wages of sin is death. Romans 6:23. The wicked shall be turned into Hell. Psalm 9:17. Christ died for our sins, was buried, and rose again. I Corinthians 15:3-4. The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. I John 1:7. The coming of the Lord draweth nigh. James 5:8. Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation. II Corinthians 6:2. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. The Acts 16:31. Receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls." James 1:21.

Communism Versus Religion

"Communism abolishes eternal truths, it abolishes all religion and all morality." Communist Manifesto by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels.

"Religion is the opiate of the people. Religion is a kind of spiritual intoxicant, in which the slave of capital drowns his humanity and his desires for some sort of decent human existence . . . Our program is based entirely on scientific (and) materialistic world conception. Our program necessarily includes the propaganda of Atheism. We shall now probably have to follow the advice which Engels gave to the German Socialists — to translate and spread among the masses the enlightening atheistic literature of the eighteenth century.

We must combat religion — this is the A.B.C. of all materialism, and consequently of Marxism. But Marxism goes further. It says: We must be able to combat religion, and in order to do this we must explain from the materialist point of view why faith and religion are prevalent among the masses." V. I. Lenin in his book called Religion.

"We Communists are people of a special mould. (Same mould as that of Hitler, Mussolini, and Tojo.) We are made of a special stuff. We are those who form the Army of the great proletarian strategist, the army of Comrade Lenin. There is nothing higher than the honour of belonging to this army. There is nothing higher than the title of member of the Party whose founder and leader was comrade Lenin." Joseph Stalin in his book on Leninism.

"Religion acts as a bandage over the eyes of man, preventing him from seeing the world as it is. It is our task to tear off this bandage." Yaroslavsky in Religion in the U.S.S.R.

"We Communists do not distinguish between good and bad religions, because we think they are all bad . . ." Earl Browder, Communist leader.

"War to the hilt between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable. Today of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years. To win we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist." From a speech made in 1931 by Dimitry Z. Manuilsky before the Lenin School of Political Warfare. Mr. Manuilsky was Presiding Officer of the U.N. Security Council in 1949.

"We have learned the lesson that international agreements, historically considered by us as sacred, are regarded in Communist doctrine and practice to be mere scraps of paper." President Dwight D. Eisenhower. "That's why we cannot trust the Soviet regime. That's why we must remain armed to the teeth. Recall- ing the tragedy in Hungary, we say to our departed guest: "Farewell, Murderer!" Millions of Americans would answer: "Send Menshikov home — recall our Ambassador!" David Lawrence.

"Krushchev's drive for a summit meeting has succeeded, with MacMillan acting as the honest broker. Russian declarations, however, show no palpable concessions. Indeed, they were more conciliatory in 1952. The intrinsic value of "summit" meetings can be ascertained by simple, historical recollection: in the last 25 years, the United States has had 3400 meetings with the Communists, including Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, Panmunjam and Geneva. The Negotiators have spoken 106 million words, about 700 volumes in print. This talk-fest led to 52 major agreements — and Soviet Russia has broken 50 of them! It is almost boring to quote Lenin: "promises are like pie crusts — made to be broken." Major General C. A. Willoughby, U. S. A. Ret. Chief of Intelligence, for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 1939-51.

Would to God that every American would buy and read "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation. This book of which The New York Times has the following to say: "Indispensable . . . the most authoritative book ever written on Communism in America" may be ordered through any bookstore. It is printed in both a regular book binding, and also in paper back covers.

I just want to quote two statements from J. Edgar Hoover's excellent book:

"These doctrines (Communist doctrines) threaten the happiness of the Community, the safety of every individual, and the continuance of every home and fire-side. They would destroy the peace of the country and thrust it into a condition of anarchy and lawlessness and immorality that passes imagination. (Be sure to see the picture Operation Abolition which shows how a few hard core Communists can start a riot right in our Country.) Every citizen has a duty to learn more about the menace that threatens his future, his home, his children, the peace of the world —and that is why I have written this book."

All Americans should write to their Congressmen, and demand that they keep the Committee on Un-American Activities in force. This Committee is the very best organization that Americans have to safeguard their liberties against the Communist Termites which are eating away at the very foundations of our beloved Country. "If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?" Psalm 11:3.

God help America if our leaders ever let the Communists talk them into disarmament. There will be no world peace until the Prince of Peace, The Lord Jesus Christ comes again, as He has promised to do in St. John 14:3. "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." We already know the Communists are liars, and they would immediately make us their slaves. Remember, there is no free-

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

I have received your letter of February 15, 1961, and I certainly appreciate your interest in writing to me again.

This book was published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 383 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York. It can be obtained from most public libraries, bookstores or from the publisher. It retails for $5 per copy.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Thank you for your reply of Feb. 7, which arrived today. However, the book for which you supplied me information is not the one I had in mind. You referred to Robt. F. Kennedy's book on labor, The Enemy Within.

The one I wish, I am told, was written by you. I was informed that you have "an excellent book entitled The Enemy Within. This person specifically stated that Kennedy's book was not the one he meant, but that you had one by the same title.

If you understand what I am attempting to say, will you please relay me the information. I asked for in my previous letter, ie., the publisher of your book and where I may obtain a copy?

MASTERS OF DECEIT

BACKGROUND

SAC contact J. RALPH CORBETT, Chairman of the Board, NuTone, Inc., Madison and Red Bank Roads, Cincinnati, Ohio, sent Masters of Deceit to a number of college presidents nationwide.

Attached are three folders containing 245 replies:

Folder One 89 letters which make interesting comments about communism and Mr. HOOVER'S efforts to combat it.

Folder two 98 letters indicating the book is to be made available to others.

Folder three 58 letters which simply acknowledge the book.

It would be an interesting study if the Bureau had time to do it to analyze the letters and observe the colleges and locations thereof already familiar with the book, already having read it, or now using it in training. This would show the Bureau the field offices which have done some promotion work.

For the Director's ease, I am attaching a memo not addressed to or anyone which seeks to synopsise

It may be the Bureau's wish to acquaint the new Attorney General with the expressions of these educators.

It may be that the expressions of these educators can be used by the Bureau if some future educator who does not understand our mission levels unpleasant charges against the FBI.

RECOMMENDATION

An extremely warm and cordial letter to J. R. CORBETT thanking him not only for his project of disseminating Masters of Deceit at his personal expense but also for his thoughtfulness in cataloging their replies and making them available to the Bureau. In a personal note to me CORBETT said, "Perhaps Mr. HOOVER himself might some time some evening or another glance through a few of these. I believe he would be greatly pleased to read some of the comments about himself and work he is doing for our country".

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have just finished reading your very wonderful book, "Masters of Deceit", which I found most interesting, and would like to sincerely compliment you on it.

Being a Cuban citizen and having personally seen a number of things described in your book before leaving Cuba with my family, even having property taken over by the present regime in my country, I certainly think that every citizen here as well as in the Latin American countries should read it. I would like to point out the fact that I have never in my life been mixed in politics in my country and have never even held any kind of office or job with any government in Cuba and that my family and I are not here as exiles, but as legal residents, having come in under Immigrant Visas obtained in Barranquilla, Colombia.

My wife, infant daughter and I have just come recently from Colombia, where we spent five months. During the time we were there I had an opportunity to travel around in the country in connection with leaf tobacco export business and I must say I had never seen in Cuba the extreme poverty that I saw among the peasants in Colombia, which makes me think that if a lot of the peasants in Cuba believed all the promises that were made to them during the course of the revolution we had there (even though their financial situation was superior to that of the Colombians) to the point of backing and cooperating in all senses with it, there is no reason whatsoever why the peasants in Colombia and most of the other Latin American countries wouldn't be "taken in" in the same manner.

I have recommended your book to all my friends here in the States and have even sent some paper-back editions of it to my friends in Colombia, but I really think that this book is one that should be translated into Spanish, for all Latin America to read before it's too late for them, especially with the statement made recently by Castro, where he evidently is planning to export his revolution openly and which movements I am quite sure would be aided in all ways possible by Russia.

I am enclosing herewith a 35mm slide that I took in Barranquilla last summer and which shows some of the posters that were pasted all over that city and can be read if enlarged enough on a screen, "CUBA SI! YANKEES NO!" and "AMERICA LATINA SI! YANKEES NO!", and which can give you an idea of the kind of Communist propaganda that is being spread around the country.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Thank you very much for autographing my edition of your book
Masters of Deceit.

Your book clearly exposes communism's threat to America. I sincerely hope it revealed communism's violent international movement and the reality of its existence in our own back yard to many, many Americans as it did to me.

Masters of Deceit has helped determine my career.
When I graduate from high school I plan to study international law and continue my life fighting any hinderence to American and world peace.

My study of the Russian language and of communist strategy and tactics is long and difficult; but to conquer an enemy you must understand his character. Your

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Sir:

I was compelled to write you even before I finished reading your book "Masters of Deceit". The Florida Bar had passed the paperback books out to all the lawyers in Dade County, Florida, and my employer gave me the book when he had finished.

I am only sorry I didn't know about the book sooner. I think the book is not as well publicized as it should be. I am only 20 years old, and maybe in 1957 I wasn't aware of such things.

I think the book should be read by every person living here in the United States. I have been telling everyone I know about it and hope the word will be passed on.

There are so many things that the American people aren't aware of and many do not care to bother about them.

Thank you so much for opening my eyes and those of others.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Congratulations on a fine book. ~~MASTERS OF DECEIT~~ includes just the type of hard-hitting material we need to fight the cold war and continually make our citizens aware of the threat which Communism poses.

Since one of the prime objectives of our plant newspaper is to further the free enterprise system, we are about to run a series of articles dealing with Communism. We would like to include some of the figures you use in the book along with certain quotes which we feel do an outstanding job of clarifying the menace which we, as Americans, now face.

Of course we would give you credit for having written the book and would also include a credit line for the publishers. Does the following meet with your approval? "Portions of this article have been excerpted from the book ~~MASTERS OF DECEIT~~. Copyright 1958 by J. Edgar Hoover and published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc. New York, New York."

Enclosed is a copy of our ~~RAYTHEON-ANDOVER NEWS~~. As of our next issue, the paper will be published twice each month.

We would appreciate your answer as quickly as possible so that we can get started on the article. Thank you for your cooperation.

Very truly yours,

TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Once again employees at Raytheon-Andover have exhibited their capacity for giving by helping those less fortunate to enjoy a happy holiday season.

Donations made to the annual Christmas Card Fund totalled $555.75. The committee this year was able to help all our Raytheon families who, due to unfortunate circumstances, would not have enjoyed a happy Christmas.

The Product Drafting and Tracing Control Section held a Christmas party to which over 100 children were invited. Sandwiches, cake, cookies, ice cream and soda pop were provided; games were played and prizes and gifts were distributed by Santa Claus. The section also thoughtfully provided transportation for the children to insure that all would be able to attend.

Material Procurement came up with a unique idea for their Christmas party which was held early in December. Those attending were asked to bring a gift-wrapped toy to the party. The packages were collected and forwarded to a local hospital for children with incurable diseases.

Continuing its year-round program of assistance to St. Ann's Orphanage, the Anchor Club expended extra effort this month and presented a $200 donation to the institution to help make the children's holiday even brighter this year.

Col. Maurice L. Driscoll (c) Commanding Officer, Boston Ordnance District, visits Andover BOD employees to wish them season's greetings.

Environmental Elements Important to Magnetron Production

Dressed in long white coats, nylon caps and special rubber-soled shoes, Magnetron Fabrication and Assembly personnel resemble surgeons as they perform their daily duties in a specially controlled section of the warehouse. And, like doctors, they must be extremely clean and cautious.

The production of Magnetron tubes for the HAWK program is a delicate and extremely critical operation requiring not only constant surveillance on the part of each employee, but also close control of atmospheric and other environmental elements. If a microscopic piece of dust, make-up powder or even a fingerprint were to find its way into the tube, it would be worthless.

For this reason, the entire Magnetron production area is pressure controlled, dust free and acoustically constructed. Every piece of equipment — including maintenance material — is given a special chemical bath prior to being passed through a glass porthole into the critical area.

Housekeeping also requires special attention. Because of the dust hazard, nothing can be done during the work period. However, each evening — after all parts are stored in special containers — two men work a total of twenty hours scouring everything from walls to work benches.

The project is carried on in special atmospherically controlled rooms which are sealed off from the rest of the plant by varying air pressures and airlocks. Of these rooms, the Cathode Coating Area is the most critical. It requires an extremely high pressure so that if a door leading into the area is opened, the resulting air movement will be out of the room, thus prohibiting foreign matter from entering. Because of the danger of sucking in dust and dirt, each assembly area has a successively lower pressure than the next.

All walls are ceramic tile and the floors are vinyl covered. Lights have even been recessed into the ceilings to prevent dust from collecting over the work area.

LOEBEL APPOINTED ASST PLANT MANAGER

Plant Manager A. E. Walden has announced the appointment of Harry A. Loebel to the position of Assistant Plant Manager, succeeding Carl A. Steuernagel who has been appointed Division Manager of Manufacturing Services.

Mr. Loebel attended Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin where he studied Mechanical Engineering and Business Administration. He has also studied Electrical Engineering at John Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland.

Prior to joining Raytheon in September 1958, Mr. Loebel was associated with Northeastern Engineering, Inc. as Manufacturing Manager and Treasurer.

From July 1959 until his new appointment, he served as Manager NATO Support Department.

Mr. Loebel, who resides in Andover with his wife and three children, is a lay reader in the Christ Episcopal Church.

Management Training Underway

Consistent with Raytheon's belief in developing supervisory talent to the fullest advantage both for the individual and the company, last October a group of Andover supervisors began a new management training program designed to give them a better understanding of our company operations and to help them improve their overall management performance.

Entitled Raytheon Management Training Program (RMTP), the course is being conducted and coordinated by the plant Training Section.

Glasses are held Monday through Thursday of each week from 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. — one hour of the class being conducted on the supervisors' own time. At present, 320 supervisors are enrolled in this course. Eventually, all supervision at Andover will have the opportunity to participate. The classes are broken down into groups of 40 people who meet bi-weekly.

The initial sessions covered such topics as company history, products, general organizational structure, basic economics of a business system, principles of accounting and budget planning. Future sessions will involve the human aspects of management, or "the psychology of being a boss."

Lectures, films, role-playing and problem solving techniques are used during the training session.

Barbara Curran, Circulation Librarian, checks out supplementary RMTP reading material for Carl McGowan (left) and Paul Beauregard, two supervisors participating in the program.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

This note is to show my appreciation for the tremendous work you have been doing these past many years, in uncovering Communist activities in this great country of ours.

I am a member of a local group, and there are many in Miami, who are doing what we can in our small way, to fight Communism. The first thing to read that we give new people, is your book, "Masters of Deceit." I sincerely believe that the American people are finally beginning to wake up. I hope it's not too late!

Dear Mr. Hoover,

This note is to show my appreciation for the tremendous work you have been doing these past many years, in uncovering Communist activities in this great country of ours.

I am a member of a local group, and there are many in Miami, who are doing what we can in our small way, to fight Communism. The first thing to read that we give new people is your book, "Masters of Deceit." I sincerely believe that the American people are finally beginning to wake up. I hope it's not too late!

We all need your expert guidance, more now, than ever before. I do hope that nothing will stop you from continuing on in your work, as such a great man as you is needed by his country, and its people.

Most sincerely,

Your letter of February 24, 1961, has been received, and your interest in writing is appreciated.

The concern you expressed over communism is understandable. I strongly believe that the most effective way to combat this conspiracy is to become fully informed regarding it. A thorough knowledge of its aims and objectives will enable our people to detect it as it endeavors to make inroads in every segment of our American life.

I am very pleased to know that my book, "Masters of Deceit," is of assistance to you, and I am enclosing some additional information which you may wish to read.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mrs. [redacted]

I have received your cordial letter of February 26, 1961, with enclosure, and your generous expressions of confidence in the FBI are most encouraging. Please accept my thanks in regard to your endeavors relative to my book, "Masters of Deceit," in connection with your addresses.

It was indeed thoughtful of you to ask my views on the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The Committee has as one of its primary responsibilities the recommendation of appropriate legislation regarding subversive activities to the Congress. I have always felt the Committee makes a contribution in its public disclosure of the forces that menace America, and its efforts in behalf of our country naturally represent the reason why the venom of the American communist has been directed against it. The work that the Committee has performed, and is performing, serves as a guide for sincere groups who are carrying on a militant campaign of exposure of communist activities.

Dear Sir:

A group of people in our town are trying to get some anti-communist activity organized. I have enclosed a list of your publications that I think would be good informative literature to pass around. We could use a dozen or more copies of each of these, if you can spare them. Since I do not know whether you charge for these materials I am not enclosing any money; however, if there is a charge please bill me for them.

I have a copy of your Masters of Deceit which I have given to a number of people to read. I have tried to spread the word in that way for some time and I have used some of the material from it in speeches. I was surprised at the amazement expressed as many people do not seem to know what is going on right under our noses.

Thank God for the FBI and the good work that you have done through the years, and also for the many other people who have been working for the security of our nation.

There is so much controversy about the House Un-American Activities Committee which I think we desperately need to keep. Can you give us your opinion whether we should keep it or, as Rep. James Roosevelt advocates, "curb it by putting it under the Judiciary Committee"?

Any helps that you can give us will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

I feel that we as Americans owe you a deep contained in this book. It is being a real eye-opener to me, and I have always felt that "Communisim" is our

This book should be made a "MUST" for every

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Recently, I attended several lectures given at the University of Cincinnati by several men from the FBI. I think the lectures were very thorough and interesting and gave us a true picture of our surroundings. As a member of the youth of America I am thankful that the FBI has such a program that enlightens us on the underworld as a whole. Many of us were discussing the lectures and were amazed to have found out many things we didn't dream were actually occurring. The only regret I have is that at the beginning of the lectures several copies of your book, The Masters of Deceit, were passed out free of charge. Because I was so interested I really wanted one of the books but there were none left. I am writing to you to find out if it is possible for me to receive a copy so that I can obtain the full details of the lectures I heard. Anything you can do would be greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Bufiles contain no identifiable information concerning correspondent or W. C. Jones.

The organizations, books and individuals listed by correspondent are not being documented, due to the number listed. All are readily recognized as being anticommunist in nature. It is noted that one of the books listed is "Masters of Deceit."

Jehovah's Witnesses is a popular name for the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society. It has not been the subject of a security investigation by the Bureau, but in the past has been the subject of an inquiry to determine if the organization counseled members to avoid service under the Selective Service Act, and individual members have been subjects of Selective Service investigations (61-1053).

My Dear Mr. Hoover,

Our family has admired and respected your loyalty to country, and devotion to duty these many years. How frustrating it must be to have your work come to naught, because not all of our public officials are as dedicated to the good of their country as you are.

It is sad that we little loyal Americans wonder where we can get the truth, except thru you, Mr. Hoover. We know our country is in great, great danger from within and from outside its borders, and want to do something to help. But what, and how to go about it?

Are we reading the right material on the subject, attending the meetings and seeing the pictures we should see, even tho we are called all sorts of names? Are we doing right to keep on talking of the perils as we see them, tho people listen almost as if in a stupor?

There are groups being organized by the dozen, but are their aims and ideals for the good of our country, or merely to needle, discount or discredit some other organization, as you and the F.B.I. have been discredited?

Will list a few of these organizations in this area;

Pro America.

America First..

The John Birch Society.

Watch Dogs of America.

Christian Crusade.

Dr. Swartz.

Freedom Forum.

Democrats United for America.

Republicans United for America.

Citizens United for America.

Have read,

The Pentagon Case - by Robt. A. Winston.

The Big Decision - by Matt Scvetic.

Masters of Deceit - by J. Edgar Hoover.

Propaganda in American Schools. - Verne P. Kaub.

Articles on Brain Washing.

Have heard speak

Dr. [redacted] Minister - Christian Crusade.

[redacted] Counter-spy for the F.B.I.

Rev. [redacted] ---ex-Communist.

Dr. [redacted] tape on P.O.W. Indoctrination.

and others.

Are we on the right track?

Would really like information on the Jehovah Witness religious group.

Also a W.C. Jones, of Los Angeles, Publisher of technical books.

I understand he is, or was connected with the Presidents Prayer Breakfast in Washington, D.C.

He has been showing a movie of his 'Ten trips to Russia'. His movie was shown on three different T.V. networks, on one night, just before the last election. And while it may not have been propaganda, it certainly done the U.S.S.R. little harm. A young minister and his wife appeared with MR. Jones on the program I watched.

Am sorry, but frankly I doubt the loyalty of this man. I have asked, and been asked about him, and decided to appoint myself a committee of one, to try and get some information on him. Now am asking you. Mr. Hoover, is this man a menace to our country? If so how can we ordinary citizens treat the matter? Am getting so tired of these people with slanted ideas getting the eyes and ears of the world, on radio and T.V. while we have to sit and take it, and be called has-beens or worse if we object. I dislike to see anyone labeled unjustly, but it also makes me furious to see anyone living on the fat of this land peddling all this atheistic Red Propaganda, posing as a parlor pink, or a liberal.

Please forgive me, Mr. Hoover, if am out of line in asking these questions, but am so concerned, or maybe should say down right scared about what is happening right here in our own country, but do want to do what is right. Have had many a verbal battle, dating back to the days of Martin Dies and Mc Carthy.

Am so pleased at the number of young people joining in this Crusade, and want to be sure any and all the information I am responsible for them using is reliable.

Thank you for your patience. I am past sixty, and just learning to type.

Very Sincerely ,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Last year our local newspaper, the News Sentinel, published in a number of installments your book "Masters of Deceit". I have not yet picked up a copy of this book, but plan to.

This Country and every solid-thinking citizen certainly owes you and your department a great big vote of thanks.

It is a shame that you do not receive more support from the Supreme Court and the Department of Justice. The United States is certainly being overrun with Communists and Communist spies; and I have always had the feeling that a lot of our trouble dates back to the meetings at Yalta and Teran.

Has the FBI ever investigated Eleanor Roosevelt and Edward Murrow?

Respectfully yours.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

It was indeed kind of you to write on February 24 to give me your observations on "Masters of Deceit" and I do appreciate your expressions of support for its contributions to public knowledge of the threat of communism.

Regarding the question you raised, I have always believed that among the great strengths of our democracy is the latitude ingeniously provided under the Constitution for varied and divergent points of view. Unquestionably, the social and economic gains we have made have evolved from sincere thought and efforts of both conservative and genuinely liberal factions. This process is impossible under communism. It is this characteristic of our form of government that communism must destroy if it is to succeed in overpowering democracy.

The communist movement is swift to enter areas of legitimate controversy, not to contribute to the solution of our problems, but to sow discord and foment greater disunity. Communism, by its very nature, is unalterably opposed to any segment of our society which is making a sincere effort to strengthen our system of justice and opportunity.

I do hope that I have clarified my views for you. I am sending, under separate cover, some material regarding communism which you may find of value.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

At the present time, I am reading with great interest, your book, "Masters of Deceit". I believe that it should become a Text Book for study in our Public School System.

In the Seventh Chapter, you state that "Communists are not liberals," and that "Communism is the very opposite of liberalism." As I understand "Liberalism" today, "Liberalism" stands for increased powers of central government, which results directly in taking away the freedoms of the individual. "Liberalism" to me, means a trend toward a Socialistic and Welfare State.

Isn't it true, that since the Publication of your book, the objectives of the "Liberals" of this nation have changed? Therefore isn't it true that the Communists actually approve of the Liberals of today?

I shall be very interested in your comments on these questions.

Very truly yours

I wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart for this great service which you have given to the American people. I am convinced that no one person is doing more to preserve the principles which made this country great than you are. I'm sure that if all Americans would take the challenge of communism only half as seriously as you do, we would never have to worry about this country being run by this God-less, inhuman system.

May God richly bless you in your fight to keep American great!

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr Hoover.

I have just finish rereading your book "Masters of Deceit. It is even better on second reading. I think I will buy it for my library.

I have an idea. I also see later that the American Bar Assn has it also. My idea is this, so Many people out here seemed to be concerned about Communism. They all hate it, but they are not inform about it. I have suggested your book, but Many will not read a whole book. Do you think it is possible to have a course in Communism for the Man in the street and the average small town fellow. I mean like the pamphlets put out by the Dept of Agriculture on farm<sup>629</sup> and etc. It ~~is~~ would have to be carefully screened and even watch closely in the printing. That is why I am writing you. I have a great respect for the F. B. I. and a greater love of my country. I also think the average American is a good and decent person. He will fight and fight well, but he first must Know what he is fighting and how to fight it. I Know that someday we will beat Communism but I think we will do it only when every American (excepting the CPUSA's) are alerted.

I have or will write to my Congressman and Senator from my state, and ask then to do what they can.

Thank you Kindly know what he is fighting and how to fight it. I know that some day we will beat Communism but I think we must do it only when every American (excepting the CPUSAs) <sup>are</sup> ~~is~~

I have or will write to my Congressman to do what they can.

Thank you kindly

Dear Mr. Tolson:

Mr. Rigg turned over to me the enclosed letter dated February 10th from Horacio Aguirre, editor of Diario Las Americas, 4349 Northwest 36th Street, Miami Springs, Florida.

Mr. Aguirre is requesting permission to serialize the Spanish edition of Masters of Deceit published by Editorial Letras of Mexico City. Would you kindly let us know whether or not we should cooperate with Mr. Aguirre and grant permission to serialize the book. If this project has your approval, we would probably make an arrangement whereby we would be paid 50% of any income derived from the sale of the serial to newspapers. In addition, he would have to negotiate with Editorial Letras for the use of the Spanish translation. The Mexican publisher does not control serial rights, but the translation could not be used without their permission.

Thank you for your help.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am presently a student at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. I am a Junior preparing to student teach Political Science at the high school level. On February 23, Mr. William Sullivan spoke on our campus about "The Role of the F.B.I. in Counter Espionage." After the lecture, copies of your book Masters of Deceit were distributed to the students. Since I was one of the unfortunate students who did not receive one of the copies, I would like to ask if I may be sent a copy to use in regard to my student teaching. I feel that I could make excellent use of this book for outside reading for my perspective students.

I plan to do a unit on Communism and the security measures our governmental agencies use to prevent Communist infiltration here in the United States. I would sincerely appreciate any materials, data, etc., which your agency could send to me.

In closing I would like to say that the lecture presented by Mr. Sullivan was very enlightning for our student body. I have often felt as though college is a four year refuge from life, and that we students are not quite as well informed of current world problems as we should be.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have just finished reading your book "Masters of Deceit." What a wonderful service you have rendered to the American people by writing it. I wish with all my heart that every God-fearing, loving American would read it. More of them would know what we are up against and why we must fight day by day to keep our God-given freedoms.

Let me express for me and my family the appreciation of the fine job that you and your office are doing in fighting Communism in our beloved Country. I shall assure you that we will be on guard at all times, to watch what books, clubs & etc that we and our children have anything to do with.

Dear Mr. Hoover, masters of Deceit

It was with great pride and delight that I received from Mr. Norris S. Harzenstein, Field Supervisor of the Philadelphia Office of the FBI, two of your books inscribed to me and autographed by you.

I had already had the pleasure and edification of reading the books and recommending them to my friends. Now the gift books are among our treasured possessions which Mrs. [ ] proudly displays to our guests.

Working on television programs with the local FBI office has been a source of deep personal pleasure. In addition, it has given me added insight into the workings of your organization and unbounded admiration for the thoroughness, keenness and alertness of all the personnel I had the privilege of meeting.

I was honored to be permitted to co-operate on television programs with the FBI and look forward to any additional activity in which I may assist.

May I wish you continued success in your work.

Mrs. [ ] joins me in expressing our thanks for the books.

Sincerely,

FROM : M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: MASTERS OF DECEIT

The Director is in receipt of a letter dated 3-11-61 signed by [redacted] Orinda, California. This letter states that the writers have been unable to secure a copy of "Masters of Deceit" in their local area. They indicate that they have been told that the book had been taken off the racks on orders from the Government and was no longer in supply. They ask whether such an order had been issued "by the Government" and, if so, who in what position could issue such an order and why. They indicate they have written their Congressman, John F. Baldwin, asking that he make inquiries on Capitol Hill.

Bufiles reflect that in 1950 the Bureau conducted an Atomic Energy Act applicant-type investigation on [redacted] who may be identical with the writer. No derogatory data was secured. The subject of this investigation resided in Los Angeles, California, and had attended the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California. [redacted] not identifiable in Bufiles, though it is noted that [redacted] investigated in Atomic Energy investigation, had a wife named [redacted] Mr. Tolson instructed that we acknowledge the letter and send copies of the incoming to both Holt, Rinehart and Winston & paperback publishers.

RECOMMENDATION

1. That the attached letter be sent to [redacted] over the Director's signature.
2. That the attached letters over Mr. Tolson's signature be sent to Holt, Rinehart and Winston and the paperback publishers.

Dear Miss [redacted]

I have received your letter of March 6, 1961, and I do want to express my thanks for your generous comments concerning "Masters of Deceit."

It has always been my belief that a broad knowledge of the objectives and operations of the communist conspiracy is essential if Americans are to effectively resist its influence. "Masters of Deceit" was intended as a basic text on communism, and your interest in it is a source of great encouragement to me.

I am forwarding, under separate cover, some material on communism which you may like to read.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have had the pleasure of reading Masters of Deceit and have recommended it to as many individuals as possible. If only every freedom-loving person were aware of the godless ideology which seeks to enslave him, I feel certain that the free world would be victorious.

Your book renders such a clear portrayal of the task which lies before every patriot that it has inspired me to spend as much time as possible in doing my part. When I first started, I was rather dubious about the significance of one individual's efforts; but now I realize that if one is diligent, a chain reaction soon occurs among those whom he has contacted.

Thank you so much, Mr. Hoover, for alerting those of us in the free world to the enemy within our beloved shores. May the Lord continue to strengthen you and your co-workers as you strive to maintain America as "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Sincerely yours,

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It is our observation that there has been an accelerated interest in this area to know more about communism and how to combat it. The first lecture of a nine-week series being sponsored by the Contra Costa Junior College District was attended at both campuses by many hundreds of students, professional people and other interested citizens.

By reputation, the factual content of your book, "Masters of Deceit", has been used by many as the stepping stone to awareness of this great problem. In vain I have tried to obtain a copy of the paperback edition at our two local drug stores, in book departments of Oakland department stores; and a few others have canvassed Walnut Creek to no avail. In many places I was told that it had been taken off the racks on order from the Government and was no longer in supply. In other places the offer was made that an attempt would be made to obtain a copy for me. It is too early to determine if this attempt will be successful.

Would your Bureau be interested in finding out if such an order had been issued "by the Government" and, if so, who in what position could so order, in what guise could such an order be issued, and why? Is this an order that covers the entire nation? We have written our Congressman, the Honorable John F. Baldwin, asking that he make inquiries on the Hill. We feel that this most valuable book should be available to an interested public. Incidentally, a check at the local library finds the book is catalogued, but no issue is on the shelf at present.

Attached is a copy of a letter sent by RENTSCHLER to each member of the State Board of Education of Ohio. This is a part of his program to have Masters of Deceit made a mandatory portion of the high school curriculum for each public high school in Ohio.

RENTSCHLER is certainly a tremendous FBI friend.

The following two sentences from his letter to the members of the State Board of Education illustrate his attitude:

"I feel strongly that every American should be familiar with the Communist ideologies and how Communism is trying to promote itself in America."

"One way for the coming generations to learn of the situation is through J. EDGAR HOOVER'S factual presentation of the startling facts about Communism - What it does, how it works, what it's aims are, the real dangers it poses, and what loyal American citizens must know to protect their freedom."

Mr. E. D. Mason, Special Agent in Charge
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
637 U.S. Post Office & Court House Building
Cincinnati 2, Ohio

Dear Mr. Mason:

It is a privilege to present to each member of the State Board of Education, a copy of "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, and to have each copy delivered through the courtesy of Mr. E. E. Holt.

I have previously proposed to Mr. Holt that consideration be given to this volume as part of the curriculum in high schools in Ohio, so that every student graduating would be more aware and more appreciative of our American heritages which some would destroy. I feel strongly that every American should be familiar with the Communist ideologies and how Communism is trying to promote itself in America.

One way for the coming generations to learn of the situation is through J. Edgar Hoover's factual presentation of the startling facts about Communism. What it is, how it works, what its aims are, the real dangers it poses, and what loyal American citizens must know to protect their freedom.

I am hopeful that the State Board of Education, after due consideration, will recommend that J. Edgar Hoover's book, "Masters of Deceit", be used in all the schools in Ohio. The Cincinnati and Hamilton School Systems have practices relative to the use of this book. There may be other school districts in Ohio that also use it. Mr. Holt and some members of the State Board may be familiar with the use of this book in certain Ohio schools, but if not, a check can easily be made as to how it is used or how it may be used advantageously.

In addition to FBI Director Hoover's "Masters of Deceit", I am presenting seven items prepared by the FBI:

Dear Mr. Hoover,

It came to my attention recently that your book "Masters of Deceit" is no longer available in the Pocket Book Inc. edition. Upon inquiring from an F B I friend of mine as to why, I find that you have called back the copies from the stands. Would you be so kind as to tell me why you have done this? I feel so strongly that your book is needed to help us all combat this very real menace to the United States. The paper bound edition was reaching many people who could never have afforded the Henry Holt edition. I sincerely hope you will do me the favor of a reply so that I may be assured that you will once again make this book available to the thirftier reading public.

With respect to Dr. Frederick Schuman, Bufiles reflect that we have conducted a security type investigation of him and was on the Security Index of the Boston Office until he was removed in 1955. He was reported to be a member of the Communist Party from 1938 until 1945. "Communism on the Map" was prepared by the National Education Program, Searcy, Arkansas, and George S. Benson, the president, is on the Special Correspondents' list. The film was reviewed by Bureau agents in 12/60 and it was not the type of material we should endorse due to its distortions, half truths and innuendoes to prove that international communism is encircling America.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have just read your book "Masters of Deceit" and gladly take this time to express my thanks for an American who obviously possesses sound Christian principles, and who has written a book which I would, since I am a high school English teacher, like to see as required reading in every high school history class in this nation. I appreciated greatly your calm approach to the subject of your book and your clear, effective, and classical style.

In 1954, in a book "McCarthy and His Enemies," Mr. Wm. F. Buckley Jr. and L. Brent Bozell on pp. 136-137 in particular reported that Dr. Frederick Schuman, professor of government at Williams College, had fronted over fifty Communist organizations. In the summer of 1959, at Central Washington College of Education I took a course called "The Soviet Union," a course taught by Mr. Schuman. Are the facts as reported in "McCarthy and His Enemies" correct, and is Mr. Schuman still a teacher at Williams College and still engaged in the mentioned activities? My next question is do I have your permission to use passages from your book if I should wish to in the future?

I hope you will be "able" to answer "both" questions, but if not, I nevertheless wish you and the entire bureau the best of good fortune in the future. I am extremely proud of the work you and your bureau have done for the United States.

Sincerely yours,

 SUBJECT: AUTOGRAPHED COPY OF
 "MASTERS OF DECEIT" FOR [REDACTED]

 b6
 b7C

Inspector Suttler has received a personal letter from former ASAC Adrian L. Meyer, who retired on 7-31-60. He is now Trust Administrator of the Valley National Bank at Phoenix, Arizona.

In his letter he related that one of his associates, [REDACTED] a graduate of the Naval Academy, a former Submarine Commander, Japanese Prisoner of War and now Assistant Trust Officer of the Valley National Bank, had expressed a great interest in the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit." He stated [REDACTED] was a very ardent admirer of the Director and Meyer stated he would personally appreciate the Director autographing a copy of his book to Mr. [REDACTED]. There is no record in Bufiles on [REDACTED]

 b7C

Inspector Suttler and former ASAC A. L. Meyer entered the Bureau on the same date, July 6, 1936, and as Meyer had a very good record in the Bureau and was ASAC at Butte and Omaha prior to his transfer to Phoenix because of his wife's health, it is felt we might make an exception in this case.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Director autograph the attached book to [REDACTED] and that it be returned to Suttler in Room 4248.

Your letter of March 14, 1961, with enclosure, has been received, and it was indeed kind of you to give me the benefit of your observations.

Your grave concern over communism is understandable. I strongly believe that the most effective way to combat this conspiracy is to become fully informed concerning it. A thorough knowledge of the nature and objectives of communism will enable our people to detect it as it endeavors to make inroads in every segment of our American life. My book, Masters of Deceit, is a basic text on this subject, and I appreciate your interest in it. I would like to suggest that if you are unable to obtain a copy locally, it can be purchased from the publisher, Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 18" Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York.

In view of this, I am sure you will understand why it would not be possible for me to comment as you requested.

I am pleased to forward, under separate cover, some material on the subject of communism which may be of assistance to you.

NOTE: Bufiles contain no information identifiable with correspondent. The "Pentagon Case" was written by Victor J. Fox, which is the pen name of Robert Winston, which is a fictional account of communist efforts to infiltrate and control various segments of American life. Winston has been guilty of repeating extremely derogatory statements concerning the Director. The John Birch Society is allegedly an anticommunist organization; however, Robert Welch, its founder, has stated that the Society might take on the appearance of a "front" in order to attract true subversives. During the Eisenhower administration Welch criticized the President to the point of calling him a dupe of the communists. Bufiles contain no information identifiable with Jerry Lee. "Communism on the Map" has been reviewed at the Bureau, and found to contain half-truths and innuendos in its effort to depict communism as an International conspiracy, and has been found unsuitable for Bureau endorsement. We have never investigated the National Council of Churches, although we have kept abreast of the efforts of the Communist Party to infiltrate this organization. See outgoing letter same date to Miss Ruth Stark, Holt Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 383 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York. Correspondent enclosed a stamped self-addressed envelope which is being utilized with our out going.

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading "The Pentagon Case" by a writer who calls himself Colonel Victor J. Fox. I have also recently read some "News for Action" folders which he publishes, and I am very upset by this. I realize he says his book is fiction, but he hints that every word is based on fact.

Another thing that has come to my attention recently is the John Birch Society. There is a branch in Amarillo, Texas, which is near my home, and there has been much publicity the past few days about a statement a retired general, Jerry Lee (who seems to be spokesman for the local group), made concerning the National Council of Churches. He feels the council "is infiltrated with communists." I have not learned why he thinks this is true, but I presume it is due to the fact that the National Council of Churches thinks the movie "Operation Abolition" filmed last May during the San Francisco riots, should be barred. I saw the film last night and cannot understand why anyone would not want it shown unless he were a communist.

A few weeks ago I saw "Communism On the Map," and the way I interpreted it was this: the more WE try to get "something for nothing" such as federal aid to our schools; more Social Security, socialized medicine, and numerous other things, the nearer we are to communism. In other words, the step following socialism is communism! If I am wrong in feeling this, please correct me. My husband thinks the reason the federal government wants to give aid to schools (and thereby be able to tell them what to do) is so they can force all schools to integrate. Maybe this is the only way it can be done. I feel in my heart that just because a child is black is no reason to keep him from getting a good education.

REC-84

Recently an acquaintance of mine attended a DAR meeting in Colorado Springs. She and others were told (by whom I do not know) to not watch Huntley and Brinkley, Jack Paar, or Groucho Marx, because all are communists. I have the impression that the DAR is a slightly anti-Negro organization, and since Huntley and Brinkley have shown how ridiculous they think the segregationists are, that the DAR has a "mad" or them. As for Jack Paar, I don't believe he has the intelligence the communist party would demand of a member. And if you've ever seen him on television, surely you would agree that he would have told us by now that he is a member, for he has told everything else. I imagine they assume he is communistic because of his trips to Cuba and interviews with Castro. Many of us were taken in by him. But I understand the New York Times probably wielded more influence in getting the U. S. sentiment to turn toward Castro (by printing Mitchell's articles) than anyone else.

Reader's Digest recently printed an article on Betarcourt of Venezuela. It said he is our only hope in South America--or words to that effect. I later heard that he was educated in Russia and is definitely a tool of the Reds.

When it gets to the point where we cannot believe the New York Times or Reader's Digest, we may as well load our unregistered .45's and sit on the porch and try to pick off as many as we possibly can, hadn't we?

As you can see, I am very upset by these things, and I don't know where to turn. I want to be informed, but I don't want to be misled by communist-slanted material nor by "witch hunters," so tell me what we should do. What magazines should we read? What newsman should we listen to? We can't write you each time we want an opinion, nor could you give us answers that often.

Our first inclination is to have a good old-fashioned case of hysterics, but surely there is something more constructive to be done. I hope you can tell me what.

I have tried to buy your book "Masters of Deceit" but so far haven't found it. Our local library has three copies, but they've been checked out the three times I've tried to get one. I am still looking forward to reading it.

Thank you very much for any information you can give me, but I will be especially thankful for any hope you can give. I'm not the only mother who is "rurrying scared" these days.

Yours sincerely,

Academy Receives Books From FBI Head, J. Edgar Hoover

Two copies of a book entitled "Masters of Deceit" have been received as a gift by the Academy of the Little Flower girls' school located in the San Luis Rey district in Mission Valley.

The gift was from J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, through one of his agents; and the book has to do with the story of communism in America and how to fight it.

A powerful and informative book, written by the FBI director, it explains startling facts about communism, the major menace of our time and tells what American citizens must know to protect their freedom.

Presented through the Religious Emphasis Foundation of San Diego, the book is inscribed: "To the Youth of San Diego County . . . whose fervent devotion to the principles of free government will help defeat atheistic communism." — Director, FBI.

"We are pleased to receive these publications to supplement library materials available to the students in their current study of communism," states Sr. M. Leonita, principal of the Academy. Much interest has been aroused in the study of communistic tactics because of a film, "Communism on the Map," shown at the school recently by Capt. Barrimore of the U.S. Navy.

Dear Mr. Price:

I sincerely appreciated the opportunity of visiting the Federal Bureau of Investigation office the other morning, and to be included with the representatives of other schools to receive Mr. Hoover's new book. We think that it is a marvelous book and should be a must for all students to read. I can assure you that we will make some real use of the text when it is available to us.

May I also thank you for the opportunity of visiting the new offices and seeing the work of the organization. We hope that some time in the future it may be possible for you to visit our school and see our plant in its operation, as well. Again, may I express my personal thanks to you.

Dear Mr. Sanders:

This is a belated acknowledgment of your letter of January 30, 1961, with which you sent me a copy of your "Fork in the Road" program. My negligence in replying to your letter more promptly might indicate that I didn't find this of interest. Far be it from that. This program is magnificently done. The text should be much more impressive when presented in person rather than read.

I hesitate to ask for additional copies but I would appreciate if you could spare me seven copies or as many up to that number as you might be willing to furnish me.

You may be interested in the manner in which we have been endeavoring to bring to the attention of our 225 employees, the Communist menace. I am enclosing herewith a number of letters addressed to Hamilton Foundry Men and Women.

On February 20, 1961, I was privileged to attend a Seminar "Concentrated Communism" at our Lady of Cincinnati College, Cincinnati, Ohio, which was limited to the 600 female students, the faculty plus 40 or 50 invited guests. As you will note from the enclosed program, the speakers were all Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel. Chief Inspector W. C. Sullivan was from Washington and the other speakers were from the Cincinnati, Ohio office. This meeting was the first of a series held in this area. After the meeting in Cincinnati at Our Lady of Cincinnati College, a meeting was held at the University of Cincinnati; University of Dayton; Miami University at Oxford, Ohio; Ohio University at Athens, Ohio and a public meeting on Washington's Birthday at Walnut Hills High School, Cincinnati, Ohio.

It is my understanding that all these meetings followed the same pattern with the students and faculty members submitting written questions for the Speakers to answer during the Panel periods.

At Our Lady of Cincinnati College meeting, which I attended, about half of the questions submitted were not answered due to time limitation, but I feel quite certain from the character of the questions asked that were answered, that there will be continuing discussions as to Communism between students and faculty of Our Lady of Cincinnati College. Through the generosity of Cincinnati business firms the students and members of the faculty at the various meetings were furnished individual hardback copies of J. Edgar Hoover's book, "Masters of Deceit". I am sending you Separate a copy just in case you haven't read this book. There is also being sent with to you with this letter, the material which was distributed at the Seminar at Our Lady of Cincinnati College, which consisted of the following:

What YOU Can Do To Fight COMMUNISM
THE COMMUNIST MENACE: Red Goals and Christian Ideals
ONE NATION'S RESPONSE TO COMMUNISM SEPTEMBER 1960
EXPOSE OF SOVIET ESPIONAGE MAY 1960
COMMUNIST TARGET-YOUTH - Communist Infiltration and Agitation Tactics

You may be interested in the enclosed memorandum which I use in furnishing a paperback copy of Hoover's "Masters of Deceit" to each member of our Management and Supervisory organization. We plan to offer a paperback copy to each of our employees who registers his request at the Employment office. This has been delayed as we are having difficulty over the past few weeks in acquiring paperback copies which cost 50¢ each.

It may interest you to know that the Cincinnati, Ohio and Hamilton, Ohio Public School System have adopted Hoover's "Masters of Deceit" as a reference book for seniors in the curriculum-Modern History, American History, American Problems, Sociology and Economics.

We do know, however, that thousands of students in this area are being exposed to Hoover's book on Communism. I feel every boy and girl

J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit"

While traveling last week I again read J. Edgar Hoover's book "Masters of Deceit". I recommend that you and members of your family also read the book so I am furnishing with this memo, a pocketbook paperback copy which I hope you will read and digest.

You may think part of the book is "dry" or "hard" reading. A factual presentation such as this volume isn't the easiest thing to read but I think you owe it to yourself and your family to study the book. There are several paragraphs in this book that I would like to quote:

"The Communist Party is a highly disciplined tool of the Soviet Union in the United States. In the thirty-eight years since it came into being, it has developed a trained and potentially effective leadership that overnight, should the situation become favorable, could expand into a mass organization of great potential power. No longer does it need to send its promising young leaders to Moscow for training, because its own educational system is now performing that function.

The present menace of the Communist Party in the United States grows in direct ratio to the rising feeling that it is a small, dissident element and need not be feared. As we relax our protection and ease up on security measures, we move closer and closer to a "fool's paradise".

Through the Communist Party, the mentality of the Russian Bolsheviks is being transmitted to America, together with the belief that man can be completely redesigned from a child of God into a soulless social cog. The Party member, whether he be a farmer in Missouri, an automobile worker in Michigan, or a lawyer in California, must be made to think, act, and be like other Party members. Many techniques, such as discipline, education, the Party press, recreation, literature, organizational structure, the arts, are used to fashion the "communist man," the terror of the twentieth century. This is the "man" the Kremlin hopes will place the hammer and sickle above the White House and establish a Soviet America as part of a world empire, with Soviet Russia as the master of all. This is the "man" who, in a recent secret Party meeting, admonished the comrades present that a search of history would show that there has never been a revolution without force and violence and when the time comes, "We will hang and shoot those responsible for the type of government we have today."

September 14, 1960
Letter No. 19

TO HAMILTON FOUNDRY MEN AND WOMEN:

128. HOW'S BUSINESS: I wish I had better news today, but the lull in orders continues and in addition, we have had some cut-backs in delivery requirements with some changes in order quantities.

As much as we dislike, we have had to go to shorter work weeks and make some layoffs. We hope there will be an improvement before long. Competition for orders is razor blade sharp.

129. DID OR WILL THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD STRIKE EFFECT US?: The strike has ended. We hope the two cars of core sand that were stalled somewhere enroute - one at South Bend, Indiana, and the other at Michigan City, Indiana - get to us in a few days. If all goes well, we should have the core sand required to keep the Addressograph-Multigraph cylinders and the Schwitzer turbochargers housings in production.

130. SWISS CASTING COMPETITION: Yesterday at Schwitzer, Jordan and I were told of the first release to Sulzer Brothers, Ltd., Winterthur, Switzerland, for production of a lot of turbocharger housings Pattern Number 129114. We are terrifically concerned about this foreign competition and are most anxious to see how this foreign competition delivers -- quality of castings -- the time to deliver -- and follow up service.

131. WAGE INCREASE: On Sunday, September 11, all hourly rated employees represented by the United Steelworkers of America received an automatic increase of seven cents (7¢) per hour in their day work rates. An increase of seven cents (7¢) per hour was also made effective for each piece work hour worked by piece workers which brings the total paid for each piece work hour worked to twenty-seven cents (27¢) per hour. The automatic increases were granted in September of last year when a two year contract was negotiated.

These rate increases are not only in the hourly rates but are also reflected in higher pay for holidays, vacations and overtime hours. It also will increase the premiums the Company pays for Unemployment Compensation, Workmen's Compensation and Social Security.

Therefore, instead of the cost to the Company being exactly seven cents (7¢) for each hour worked, the cost to the Company is approximately eight and one-half cents (8½¢) per hour for each hour worked.

132. MACHINE TOOL BUILDERS EXHIBIT IN CHICAGO: Deas, Peter Robert, Jordan and I have seen the Machine Tool Exposition exhibits at the International Amphitheatre, 2nd International Machinery Show, at the Coliseum and the Production Engineering Show at the Navy Pier. Believe you me, to cover these exhibits in one day enabled one to hit only the high spots in viewing an overall picture. The improvements in metal cutting equipment are unbelievable and the results that can be accomplished are phenomenal. The machine tool builders have demonstrated, by the improvements that are possible in time-saving operations, what America industries will have to do to fight foreign competition.

133. HISTORY SHAPED BY ONE VOTE: Frequently you hear this question: What good will one vote do? Well, one vote has had a lot to do with a lot of things in this country.

Thomas Jefferson was elected President by one vote in the electoral college. So was John Quincy Adams.

Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by one vote. His election was contested, and it was referred to an electoral commission. Again, he won by a single vote.

The man who cast that deciding vote for President Hayes was a Congressman from Indiana, a lawyer who was elected to Congress by a margin of just one vote. And that one vote was cast by a client of his who, though desperately ill, insisted on being taken to the polls to vote.

Just one vote gave statehood to California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas and Washington... and today all the millions living in those five states are American by just one vote.

Now you may say that the one vote situation applies only to the past. Well, don't forget that the Draft Act of World War II passed the House by just one vote... and you can carry this One Vote History on and on.

134. RED POWER THROUGH AGITATION: The National Program Letter enclosed is a further report on the infiltration of Communists in the United States. Last week, the American Bar Association at a meeting in Washington, received a report from its special committee on Communist strategy, tactics and objectives -- and what to do about them. Excerpts from the report follow:

"It is shocking to note the number of Americans who condemn Communism, yet have not the vaguest notion of the evil which the work encompasses.

As the apathy toward the Communist peril continues, the danger increases in direct proportion.

Implicit in all Communist propaganda, is the premise that Communism is invincible and that its triumph is inevitable."

Only in knowing Communism can it be successfully resisted.

Sincerely,

IT HAS HAPPENED HERE!

On the Sunday following the San Francisco "student riots" against the House Un-American Activities Committee last May, one of the major television networks carried a filmed "report" on the sorry spectacle. The report showed "American citizens" being physically seized and escorted from the hearing room by San Francisco police. The atmosphere created by the filmed "report" was that of a Police State in which freedom of speech was being forcibly denied to citizens by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The Committee was shown in a very unattractive light. In fact, the film's commentator voiced the opinion that the incident might prove to be the "final straw" that would bring about the abolition of the Committee. Uninformed viewers of the telecast undoubtedly were inclined toward saying to themselves: "Well, it's high time that outfit was abolished — if that's what it's doing!"

Well-Known Communists

The fact is that the instigators of the "student riots," the very "citizens" who were shown being removed from the hearing room by police, were Communists whose long records of leadership activities in the Communist Party were open to the TV reporters and photographers who produced the television network "report." The TV "report" was of priceless value to world Communism. Although no reflection on anybody's loyalty is intended, the "report" could hardly have aided the Communist cause more had Communist propagandists been employed in its editing and narrating.

The incident of the San Francisco "student riots" and the true facts concerning them are of transcendent importance to the education of our citizens and the security of our nation. The facts constitute a dramatic lesson in Communist tactics at a time when they are using university students all over the world to gain their bit by bit advance toward encirclement of the United States. The facts show that "it can happen here!"

The Facts

The House Un-American Activities Committee opened hearings in San Francisco on May 12 to ascertain facts concerning Communist penetration in schools and colleges in northern California. On that day some 30 witnesses were called, including many notorious Communists. Mobs composed mostly of youths formed outside the hearing room, creating great disorder. Inside the room the Communist witnesses were vocally and finally physically violent; some had to be escorted from the room by police.

On the second day, the mobs were larger and more violent. Agitated by the Communist agents, the youthful demonstrators broke all bounds and attacked the police. Fire hose were used, but twice the incited mobs rushed and grappled with the police. The Committee members' lives were in jeopardy. Harry Bridges, twice convicted as an alien Communist and twice set free by the U. S. Supreme Court, appeared with the demonstrators on the second day. On the third day, the angry mob had grown to 2,000 in number, mostly students. Squadrons of mounted police and motorcycle officers were necessary to get the Committee members and staff safely away from the threatening mob. The hearings were called off.

From Mr. Hoover

The facts we are presenting come from an official report made by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was issued after careful and exhaustive investigation. "The Communist Party, U. S. A., is elated with the success it enjoyed" in breaking up the hearings at San Francisco, Mr. Hoover said in his special report. "The Party's elation is so great, in fact, that it bears witness to the truth of the observation that such a Communist coup has not occurred in the San Francisco area in 25 years. Immediately after the affair ended, the Party's national leader, Gus Hall, congratulated the West Coast comrades for the initiative and leadership they displayed at all stages of the demonstrations."

Red Target - The Students

"The Communists demonstrated in San Francisco just how powerful a weapon Communist infiltration is," J. Edgar Hoover said in his special report. "They revealed how it is possible for only a few Communist agitators, using mob psychology, to turn peaceful demonstrations into riots. Their success there must serve as a warning that their infiltration efforts aimed not only at the youth and student groups, but also at our labor unions, churches, professional groups, artists, newspapers, government, and the like, can create chaos and shatter our internal security."

It is well to reflect on that last statement: "... can create chaos and shatter our internal security." Yes, here in America, infiltration and control of any of these groups mentioned — students, churches, newspapers, government agencies, etc. — could actually lead to Communist take-over. This technique of take-over has happened and is happening in other nations.

In the opening paragraphs of his special report, Mr. Hoover says: "The successful Communist exploitation and manipulation of youth and student groups throughout the world today are a major challenge which free world forces must meet and defeat. Recent world events clearly reveal that world Communism has launched a massive campaign to capture and maneuver youth and student groups."

Riot Power In Japan

"The vigor and vitality of such groups constitute an explosive force of immense proportions. . . Communists have become expert at using this force to create chaos. In Japan, for example, Communists carefully nurtured and developed a growing body of students over a 10 year period, using them periodically in protest demonstrations. The culmination of this training was reached this year, when the highly organized and tightly disciplined rioters shocked the world with their uproarious displays" which led to cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit.

The Communist attack on the House Un-American Activities Committee in San Francisco was in line, Mr. Hoover reports, "with a longstanding Party aim to destroy not only the HCUA, but also the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and every other 'enemy' seeking to expose the threat which Communist activities represent to the internal security of this nation."

Aid From Non-Communists

It is noteworthy that in this objective to abolish the HCUA, the Communist international apparatus has received great aid from non-Communists. Congressman James Roosevelt, of California, son of the late President, has fought for years to abolish the Committee, using similar types of attack against it as those voiced by some of the demonstrators at San Francisco. He recently made a major address in Congress advocating its abolition.

When the HCUA first announced its hearings into Communist activities among educators in northern California, widespread opposition to the hearings developed among teachers' groups, church organizations, civil liberties groups and a few newspapers in the San Francisco area. Though most of this opposition undoubtedly was independent of the Communist plan of attack, it all gave great aid to the Communists in the recruitment of their student mobs from the campuses of colleges in the area.

A PERSONAL NOTE . . .

Nothing has so aroused the anxiety of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the Communist-led "student riots" at San Francisco last May 12-14 which caused the disruption of a series of hearings being held by the House Un-American Activities Committee. It would be heartening if the Congress and The White House were likewise concerned. Apparently, they aren't. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said in a special report recently issued: "While it must be granted that the San Francisco riots at the HCUA hearings were the best thing that had happened for the benefit of the Communist Party in years, Americans, too, can benefit from this display of Communist strategy and tactics in operation. In fact, it is impossible to stand idly by in the face of the challenge that this Communist success represents." It is impossible to stand idly by — and survive the world-wide Communist advance.

Dr. George S. Benson
President

CONTROLLING THE STUDENTS

J. Edgar Hoover, after a thorough investigation, reported: "The Communist attack on the HCUA in San Francisco was in line with a longstanding Party aim to destroy (the Committee and its work) . . . The first objective of the Party was to fill the scene of the hearings with demonstrators. The second was to incite them to action through the use of mob psychology.

"The first stage of the Party's plan of action began to unfold after word was received on April 26, 1960, by Party officials that subpoenas had been issued for local Communists to appear for the hearings. One of the recipients of a subpoena was Douglas Wachter, an 18-year-old sophomore at the University of California. Wachter had attended the 17th national convention of the Communist Party in December as an official delegate.

"Party officials decided to build a major part of their plan of attack around Wachter. Immediately after receiving a subpoena, Wachter proceeded to the University of California campus to organize student demonstrators. . . ." (The report tells how other Communists contacted student groups at Santa Rosa Junior College, San Francisco State College, and others) . .

"The Party line on the hearings and the general plan of attack were outlined and distributed early in May to all Party members in the area. . . rank and file Party members quickly responded. Members of the San Jose Club of the Santa Clara County Communist Party circulated petitions and arranged for the publishing of a protest advertisement in the local San Jose newspapers. Oakland Communist Party members arranged for radio broadcasts and publication of protest ads. Fund drives were initiated in the various clubs to provide financial support for the attack.

A Red Triumph

A telephone campaign was conducted by Party members to solidify opposition to the HCUA and was designed specifically to reach 1000 people. . . When the day arrived for the hearings to begin, the Party was set (for) its second objective of inciting the mob."

As planned, the Communists threw the hearings into near panic. Policemen were attacked; the mobs of Communist-led students outside stormed the hearing room doors. Fire hose had to be brought into play, and finally police clubs. For three days the Communist-controlled mobs ran amuck making a shambles of the hearings. Finally, the danger to the Committee itself became so acute, members and staff had to be taken out rear doors by police and whisked away under guard.

Riot charges were lodged against 62 persons. But Judge Albert A. Axelrod dismissed the charges declaring that most of the defendants were "clean-cut American college students" merely incited by agitators. Yet 58 of the 62 "clean-cut American college students" thereupon signed a statement of defiance: "Nobody incited us," it said. "Nobody misguided us. We were led by our own convictions."

Mr. Hoover said in his report: "Particularly unfortunate is the fact that many youth and student groups in our Nation today are totally unaware of the extent to which they can be victimized and exploited by Communists."

You Can Do This!

What is being done to counteract the intensive and extensive Communist activity to control and use American students as an instrument of Red take-over? Not much.

What can an individual citizen do?

Here are some suggestions:

1. Study and obtain an understanding of Communism and how the world-wide apparatus is working to destroy our nation and rule the world. Do this immediately; it is one of the most important tasks you have, if you wish to remain free. Write for our National Education Program catalog of educational materials. Write your Congressman for a copy of Mr. Hoover's report, "Communist Target — Youth."

2. Study and obtain an understanding of the American way of life — our capitalistic economic system, our constitutional government, the history of our unmatched progress. Educational material on all this is listed in our NEP catalog.

Teach Your Children

3. Be sure your children have an understanding of Communism and how the Reds work to attract youth. This is your responsibility in your home. Go to your local school officials and see that they know the facts and are transmitting those facts to the children in their care. We have a series of classroom movies for this purpose; good ones are available elsewhere.

4. If there is a college in your area go to the president and discuss this problem. Show him a copy of J. Edgar Hoover's report. Ask him to read such books as "Collectivism on the Campus," by E. Merrill Root (Devin-Adair, N. Y.), "The Naked Communist," by W. Cleon Skousen (Ensign Publishing Co., Salt Lake City, Utah), former FBI official; and some of the materials listed in our catalog.

Dedication Necessary

5. Demand of the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and your representatives in Congress that our nation immediately establish a foreign policy based on Godly moral principles and supporting freedom for all mankind — to replace the policy of "co-existence" with evil. Demand that our nation take the offensive in the "Cold War" with the objective of victory over Communism.

6. Become politically active in the party of your choice. This will require sacrifices but it is an obligation of citizenship that cannot be delegated to some other person — if you want to remain free.

7. Join a citizen group dedicated to upholding American principles and resisting Socialism-Communism. Give some time each day to its objectives.

8. Obtain, through purchase or rental, the filmstrip, "Communism on the Map," and show it to every group you can reach in your community.

9. Exemplify in your character and in your citizenship activities the Christian virtues upon which any free society must be built and preserved.

10. Pray to God Almighty every day for guidance in performing your mission as a child of God and your duties as an American citizen.

RED POWER THROUGH AGITATION

The Communist-led "student riots" which halted the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings in San Francisco indicated the tremendous power of the Red Fifth Column within our nation. For 20 years the National Education Program has advocated outlawing the Communist Party and its members, all of whom are dedicated to the destruction of our nation.

The fact that only a handful of skillful Red agents can control thousands of American people, with propaganda and agitation, and use them as instruments of power to crush an agency of the U. S. Government, ought to be evidence enough that the Fifth Column endangers our security. Upon reading of the power wielded by the Communist-led "student riots" in Korea, Japan, Turkey and other nations recently, too many Americans said to themselves, "Oh, but it can't happen here!" The facts of the San Francisco Communist-led "student riots" show emphatically that it can happen here.

Seeking Recruits

J. Edgar Hoover's report discloses: "In 1959, the Communist Party, U. S. A., launched a major campaign with youth as its target. On May 30-31, approximately 20 young Communists from New York City, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, and Philadelphia attended a conference with national leaders of the Party at Party headquarters in New York City. The purpose of the meeting was to devise a program to attract young blood — teenagers, students, and working youth — to the ranks of the Party.

"After those May 1959 conferences, campuses throughout the Nation became prime targets for Communist infiltration and recruitment efforts. The Party began operating what amounted to a regular lecture bureau, with Party spokesmen seizing every opportunity to project their views on campuses across the country.

Propaganda Program

"To establish a closer link between the Party and its youth groups, two of the most promising and active young Communists, Mortimer Daniel Rubin and Danny Queen, were included on the Party's national committee. . . A new Marxist youth organization, Advance, was organized in New York City. A drive is currently underway to establish a new Marxist youth publication, New Horizons.

"The plans for the format of New Horizons reveal the nature of the trap Communists are setting for campus students. Reporting on the proposed format to the Party's national executive committee recently, Rubin pointed out that New Horizons will not be labeled a Marxist publication. The purpose of this is to avoid too close identification with the Communist Party.

"Further illustrating the tremendous drive the Party is making to infiltrate student groups is the agenda for a youth conference the Party held in Chicago, June 11-12, 1960. The major points on the agenda for the two-day conference were (1) 'mass developments on the campus' and (2) 'left-student developments.' Discussed in relation to these points were ways and means by which young Communists could exploit such controversial issues on campuses as civil rights, academic freedom, and other so-called peace issues."

TO HAMILTON FOUNDRY MEN AND WOMEN:

In Russia there is no choice -- no opportunity to participate in deciding who will make the laws and who will enforce them. In Russia there is no opportunity to oppose those who rule -- those who lay down the laws, rules and regulations.

In the United States of America you have a share in our two party political system. I believe, with the American Heritage Foundation, that we can safeguard our freedom best, if all Americans will exercise the responsibilities of personal participating citizenship. Whether you do anything about it or not is up to you. You can, of course, let "the other guys" put up all the time, money and effort to select and support all the candidates. By putting something in one of the enclosed envelopes you will be giving your party the important financial support it requires and deserves. When you think about how much you can afford to put in as your share in our two party system, think a moment about what the cost could be if you lost that share.

When someone asks you to dig down for a contribution to some worthy cause, you have the right to ask "Why" and to get a frank answer.

The material accompanying this letter asks you to put some money into your "Share in America's Two Party System." I think there are some very good reasons "Why."

Our political party system is the only system we have for sponsoring and supporting able candidates on a continuing organized basis. If both of our parties get the majority of their support from a limited number of individual contributors, we are always going to run the risk of having candidates feel obligated to a few contributors. It's common sense to try to avoid this. It is more desirable to let all our candidates run with the general support of many contributors.

Is it really proper to make such a public appeal as this? I am most certain it is. Supporting our political well-being through individual contributions to the party of our choice is as much a community responsibility as any of the other appeals that raise funds for health, welfare, etc. The health of our political parties is important to everyone.

Why is this appeal being made through the Hamilton Industrial Council? Simply because this Council is good enough to volunteer the time and trouble to get the "packets" together and distribute them on behalf of both of our parties. Beyond that, this is strictly something between you, your conscience and the party of your choice -- be it Republican or Democrat.

I am happy to co-operate and salute the Hamilton Industrial Council for its thoughtfulness and courage in making possible this unselfish bipartisan appeal for both political parties.

Now, it's up to YOU.

Sincerely,

August 26, 1960

Letter No. 17

TO HAMILTON FOUNDRY MEN AND WOMEN:

122. WORK SCHEDULE: Next week, because of the lack of orders, the plant generally will operate four days shutting down at the close of operations on Thursday, September 1 for a long Labor Day Holiday Week-end. All hourly personnel will be off for this long Labor Day week-end unless notified by their supervisors that they will work on Friday, September 2nd.

123. HOW'S BUSINESS?: The lull in business for us and other foundries is still with us. Everything possible to get orders is being done - even to cutting casting selling prices. Price reductions are being forced upon us for no justifiable reason except that competitors will sell castings for less. To try to hold some jobs and maintain some volume to operate and serve our customers, we have had to slash to meet some extremely competitive situations.

Customers are operating with low inventories. Their demands for quality, delivery, and service are greater than any time since I have been in this foundry business, and that began forty years ago on August 1, 1920.

124. SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST: We are in a real battle for business.

Our costs are increasing. The customers under today's keen competition don't care about our costs when others will sell for less.

Higher labor costs will become effective here, Sunday, September 11, 1960, when the second year of our labor contracts become effective. Not only will hourly rates of those covered be increased by seven cents an hour, but the costs to the Company will be the seven cents an hour plus an additional cost, as a result of this new rate increase, for Workmen's Compensation, Unemployment Compensation, Social Security Benefits, Holiday Pay, Vacation Pay, and Over-Time Pay.

You can help your own job security by reducing waste of time, waste of supplies and waste of materials. You can help by exercising every care to make your work efforts count -- don't contribute to making scrap by carelessness when proper care will help produce a saleable casting.

The Company is investing in improved facilities, equipment and tools to reduce costs. Customers will pay no more and are demanding lower prices; increased costs can't be passed on.

125. LESS CAST IRON USED: With compact cars now about 30% of total car sales, there is less of a lot of different materials needed. Cast iron has been replaced to a degree in many of the compact engines as some of the engines are aluminum with cast iron sleeves only. Others remain cast iron but weigh considerably less.

Have you noted the scrap "Ford" V-8 Standard Cylinder Block weighing 205 pounds and the Ford Falcon Block weighing only 95 pounds in the casting display at the Pay Office window and so identified?

The so called "Ford" V-8 Standard Block in the display was a Chrysler Corporation Block according to Chester Combs, Janitor, who was right, and the first to pick up the error in identification. We don't have a Ford Block in the scrap heap so we can't replace the Chrysler Block. However, the lesser use of cast iron in automotive engines is demonstrated.

126. CAN YOU READ AND UNDERSTAND AN X-RAY PICTURE?: The display in the casting storage area gives some of the behind the scenes activities to check the internal structural quality of castings by X-ray.

With X-rays you can determine if the castings are internally sound and is the only means of detecting certain flaws without destroying the casting.

127. COMMUNISM - FBI WARNING: A copy of a letter of March 1, 1960 from John Edgar Hoover, Director of United States Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation "TO ALL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS" is sent to you with this letter for your information. I hope that you and the members of your families will take the time to read Mr. Hoover's letter and his statement before the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee early this year.

The whole world is in a turmoil to a more or lesser degree. While we individually may feel unconcerned, we in America must really put up our guards and resist the Red manace. Today the Communists are taking the world away from us. Only in knowing Communism can it be successfully resisted.

Mr. Hoover gives us, in a nutshell, our nation's responsibility:

"It is an incontestable fact that our country, the symbol of the free world, is the ultimate, priceless goal of international communism. The leaders of international communism have vowed to achieve world domination. This cannot be until the Red flag is flown over the United States.

If, for a moment, the grandiose Red plan is scoffed at as being fantastic, consider that one-fourth of the land surface of the world and one-third of the peoples of the earth are now controlled by the world-wide communist bloc.

The defense of the cherished freedoms secured and handed down to us by our forefathers is the responsibility of each American. Knowledge of the enemy, alertness to the danger, and everyday patriotism are the brick and mortar with which we can build an impregnable fortress against communism. Only the intelligent efforts of all Americans can prevent the decay of public apathy from laying open our Nation to the Red menace."

Sincerely,

Peter E. Rentschler

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your telegram of March 20, 1961, and the interest which has prompted you to communicate with me on this occasion is indeed appreciated.

It is most encouraging to learn of your endeavors to alert the young men and women of your school to the dangers of communism and I am glad that my book, "Masters of Deceit," has been of assistance to you in this connection. It was intended to be an easy-to-read primer on communism for students and other Americans who would like to learn something about this evil menace. It is my firm belief that a broad knowledge of the objectives and operations of the communist conspiracy is essential if all segments of our society, particularly our youth, are to effectively resist its influence.

You have my earnest encouragement in your efforts to present a true picture of this malevolent threat to your school. I am forwarding, under separate cover, several items setting forth my views on this subject which you might like to have.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Masters of Deceit, was a very worthwhile book to read. I would recomend it highly to anyone that loves his country. and cares enough to learn to defend themselves against their worst enemy communism. MB

Everyone in my class had an assignment of writing to the author of the book they read. In this letter <sup>we</sup> ~~their~~ are to express ~~their~~ <sup>our</sup> opinions on ~~the~~ <sup>over</sup> book to the author.

Masters of Deceit, was a very worthwhile book to read. I would recommend it highly to anyone that loves his country and cares enough to learn to defend themselves against their worst enemy communism.

I particularly liked your style and word usage in your writing. A good feature was the glossary in the back of the book explaining the unfamiliar words in the book.

Would you please answer some questions

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your cordial letter of March 15, 1961, and your generous remarks about my administration of the FBI are indeed appreciated.

Your desire to be better informed about the menace of communism is most encouraging, and I am glad that my book, "Masters of Deceit," has been of assistance to you in this connection. I am enclosing several items setting forth my views on communism which may be of help to your study group. Additional copies are available at no cost.

While I would like to be of assistance with regard to the organizations and individuals you mentioned, the jurisdiction and responsibilities of the FBI do not extend to furnishing evaluations or comments concerning the character or integrity of any individual, publication or organization. I hope that you will not infer in this connection either that we do or that we do not have data in our files relating to the subjects of your inquiry.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: Bufiles contain no identifiable information regarding the correspondent. Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, an allegedly anticommunist organization, has criticized the Eisenhower Administration bitterly in the past. He once stated he felt a group having the appearance of a communist front would be effective in attracting true subversives. Our relationship with the Christian Anticommunist Crusade and its founder, Dr. Fred C. Schwarz, has become most circumspect in view of their attempt to capitalize on the Bureau's reputation by pursuing their own endeavors to capitalize on anticommunist sentiments by certain segments of our country.

Attention: Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Sir:

Thank you very much for your untiring efforts to keep our nation free and informed on the plans and actions of the communist conspiracy. We have used your book, "Masters of Deceit" by the dozens. If you can guide us to other such informative material, we would truly appreciate it.

We are a study group learning and doing all we can on this threat. We would appreciate any material you could give us on the John Birch Society and Mr. Robert Welch, the founder. We would also like to know about the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade and it's founder, Dr. Fred C. Schwarz.

Are these organizations really pro-american with american ideals? Are they founded right? Is it safe for sound, law abiding, christian citizens to join them or is there danger of involvement in the future that would brand a person as radical or unfit for government service or a psychological risk? I earnestly seek your help. Thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir:

We want you to know how much we appreciate your dedication to fighting communism.

Your book Masters of Deceit is excellent.

We are reading much anti-communist material, attending lectures (heard many ex-F.B.I. agents), seeing movies (ex.-"Communism on the Map"), and spreading material published by the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade.

Thank you for everything you have done.

After 10 years as secretary to the [REDACTED] of the Mayflower Hotel, [REDACTED] resigned her position effective 3/1/61, to return to her home, 602 South Queen Street, Lancaster, Pa. Her father has died recently and she felt obligated to resign her position and to take care of her mother.

During her years of employment at the Mayflower, Miss [REDACTED] was most helpful on hundreds of Bureau matters. During this period, she has literally spent hundreds, perhaps in excess of a thousand hours, intelligently and industriously searching hotel records for information which might be of assistance to the Bureau in its investigations. All this work has been performed gratuitously and unstintingly. Her only desire was to help the Bureau, for which she has the greatest admiration.

It is requested that consideration be given to addressing to her, over the Director's signature, a letter thanking her for her many services and wishing her happiness in her new undertaking.

WFO indices contain no derogatory information concerning Miss [REDACTED]
